Good morning
yesterday, You wake up, and time has slipped away, and suddenly it's hard to find those memories you've left behind. Remember, do you remember?

Rocky Kenworthy

The laughter
and the tears,
The shadows of misty yester years

Rocky Kenworthy

The good times and the bad you've seen, and all the other in between Remember . . . do
you remember

THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE?

FOX

Reach back for the joy
and the sorrow.
Put them away
in your mind.

For memories are time that you borrow
To spend when you get to tomorrow

Here comes the setting sun.
The seasons are passing one by one.
So gather moments
while you may;
Collect the dreams
you dream today

Remember . . . will you remember

The times of your life

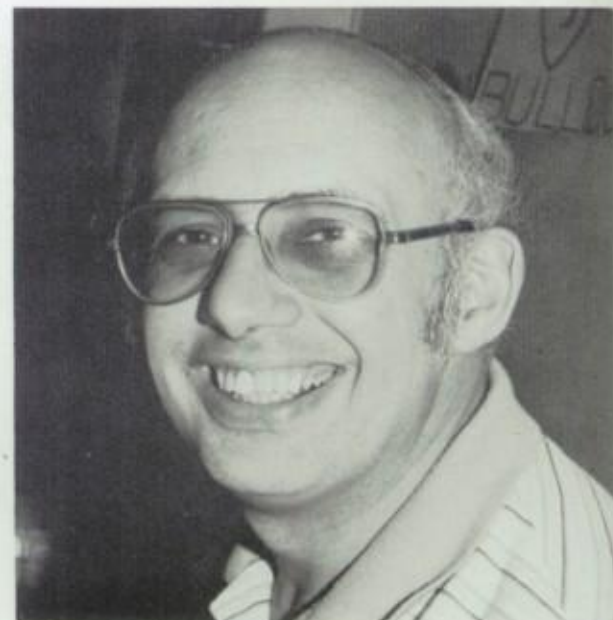

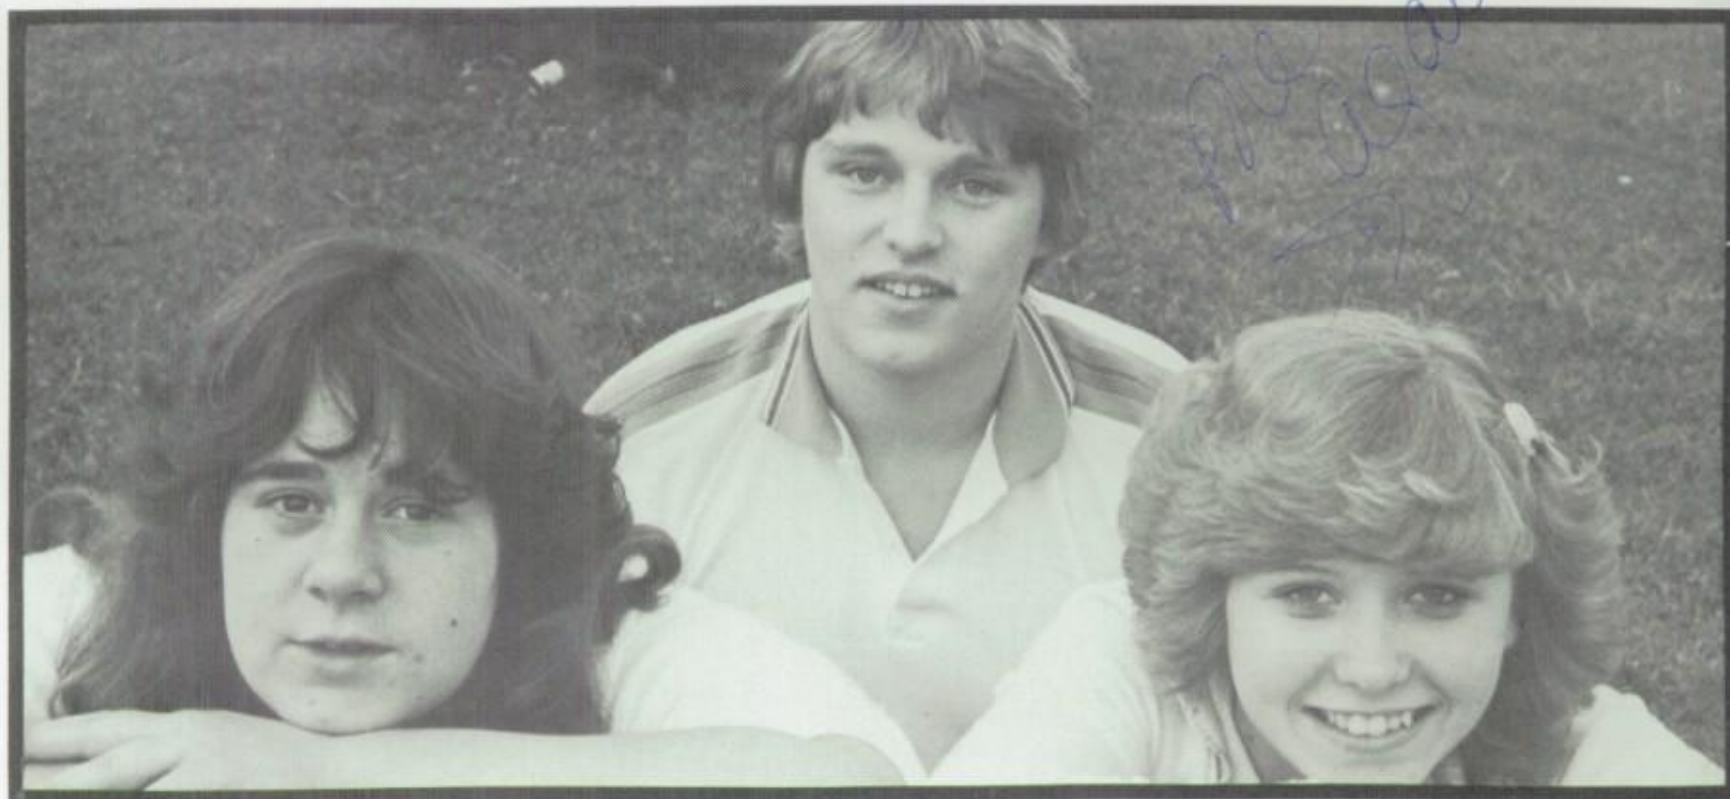

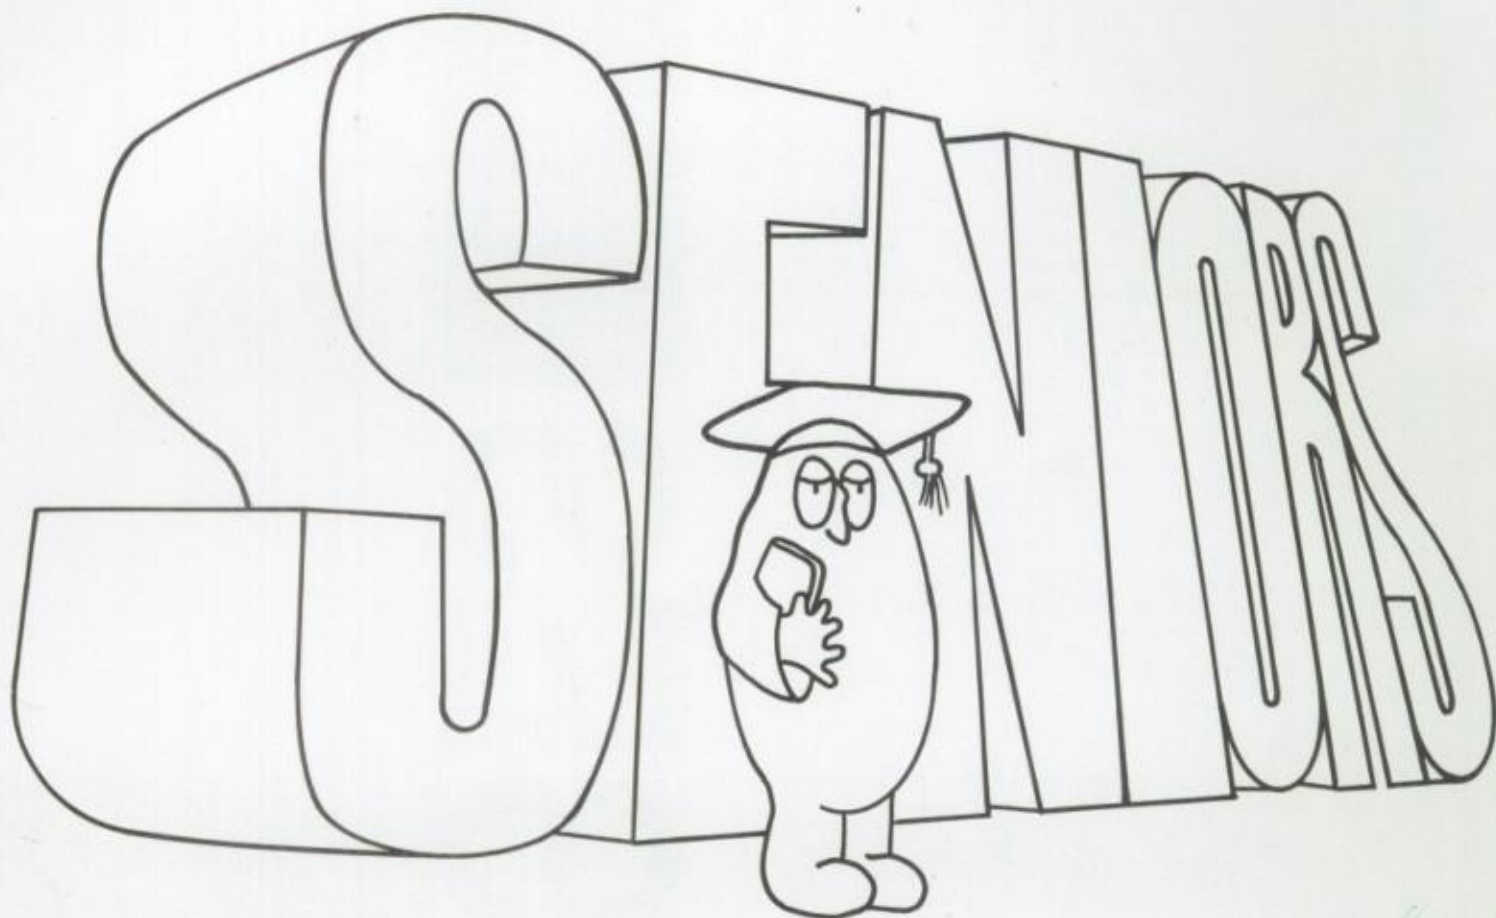

Merry,
 Let's hope you had a fun year, well if sometimes wonder it was if you ask me I think Rod. Well it was fun you could you have fun the funny top, cut girl and I saw ya
 let's hope I see you stay out summer
 I love summer
 Much love
 Love,
 Mum

CLASSES

Breaking with tradition and aiming for profits, the leadership of this year's Senior Class sponsored a spaghetti feed in November. The event was a success with a net profit of $300. "Surprisingly enough, there was a lot of class participation and enthusiasm for the feed," said Karen Campbell, co-chairman of the event. Class officers Brian Long, pres.; Jeralyn Lewis, vice pres.; and Kim Smith, sec. anticipated a spring donation drive to insure needed funds for senior events. The 240-member class enjoyed the usual events unique to seniors, including college visitations, ordering announcements, homecoming, the Senior Prom and finally GRADUATION. Guiding the seniors through the year were Advisers Ray Holt and Terry Iverson.

Money, money and more money was the name of the game for the Junior Class. Coming into the fall term with a record $600 plus treasury, the Class of '83' continued to add to their bank roll with the help of advisers Nancy Miller and Glen Ford and the leadership of President Julie Imholte, Vice President Reagan Dolsby and Secretary-Treasurer Charyl Hagemann. The class spent several weeks participating in a donation drive featuring a $100 gift certificate. That project netted $400. Also the juniors out classed their rivals by collecting $88 in the Homecoming Week spirit link contest. These efforts boosted their treasury to $1141.05.

A Valentine dance in February was expected to be their biggest social event while taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test was their major scholastic enterprise.

This year's Sophomore Class has much to remember. They've grown and shared, becoming a true group, according to class secretary Rebecca Briggs.

Led by their officers, President Amy Netro, Vice-President Craig Dolsby and Secretary Rebecca Briggs, the sophomores began proving themselves right away. They made about $50 selling carnations and sponsored a water balloon toss during Football Festival Week. Displaying considerable spirit on dress-up day the same week were the many more tourist-sophomores than Arab-juniors. Other activities included ordering class rings, planning a second carnation sale for Valentine's Day and holding the traditional Spring Donation Drive. Learning to plan a dance was just one experience in many besides the basic reading, writing and arithmetic.

How does it feel to be the first Freshman Class to be part of the high school? ..'I love being part of the school," exclaimed freshman Danielle Huguenin. ..'I especially like participating in their activities."

For the first time in almost thirty years, this year's freshman participated in high school pep assemblies, dances, and receiving the Cedar Post and the Monticola.

Their big money maker was a donation drive featuring a season pass at Schweitzer Basin.

Chris Wilson, adviser, was pleased with the 1985 freshman class. ..'They are a great class with a lot of spirit and enthusiasm."

Class officers included DeWayne Martin, President, David Dillon, vice president, and Kim Prais secretary-treasurer.

Merry,

I sure am glad I got to know you. The first day I saw you I knew we'd become friends. You're a real sweet and fun person I hope you always stay that way. I hope you're glad we became friends, cuz I had a lot of fun being around you. Did you like all my crazy friends. I'm moving on June 7th. I hope I can see you before I go. I'll be back for the 4th of July. I'll miss you when I go to Rickland. Hope you're happy with Rom.

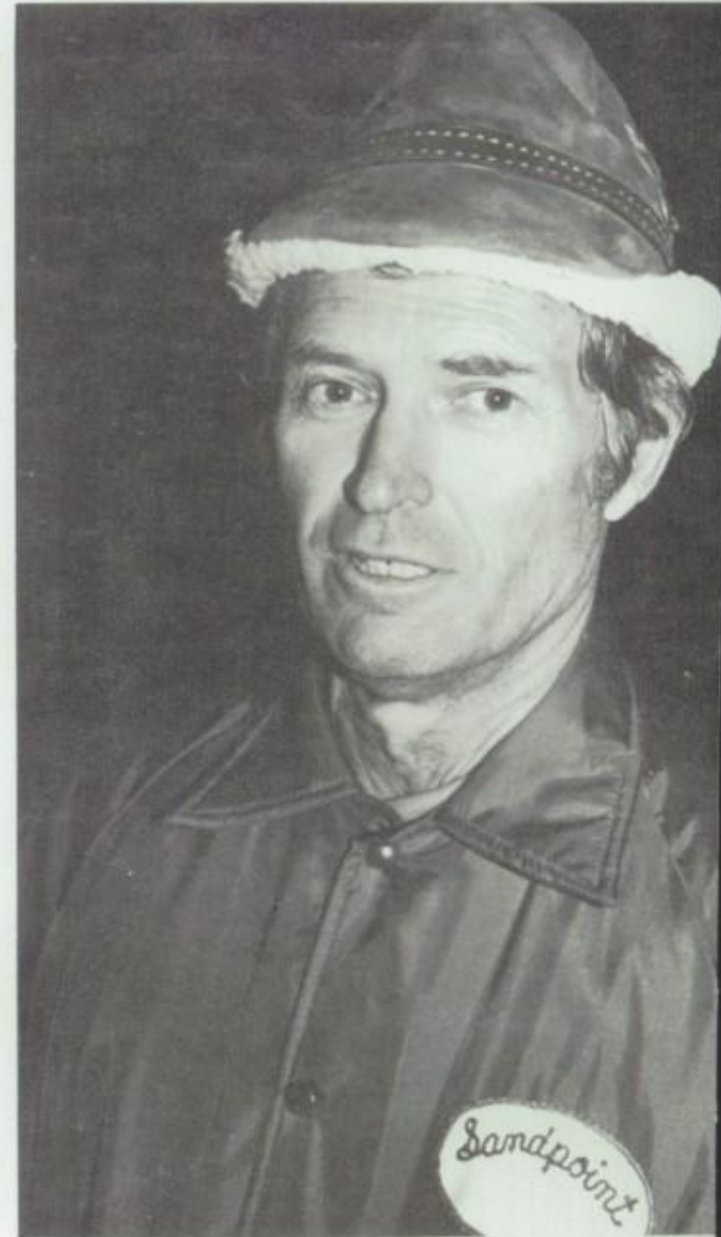

P.S. don't do anything I wouldn't do, now you don't have any restrictions

Love ya always your friend D.G. Ser.

ADMINISTRATION

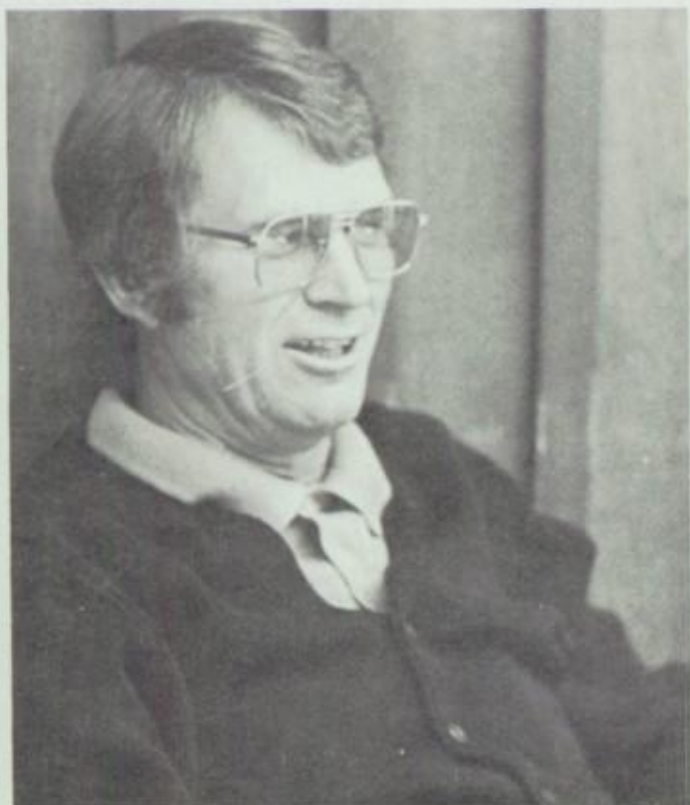

— Our New Principal —

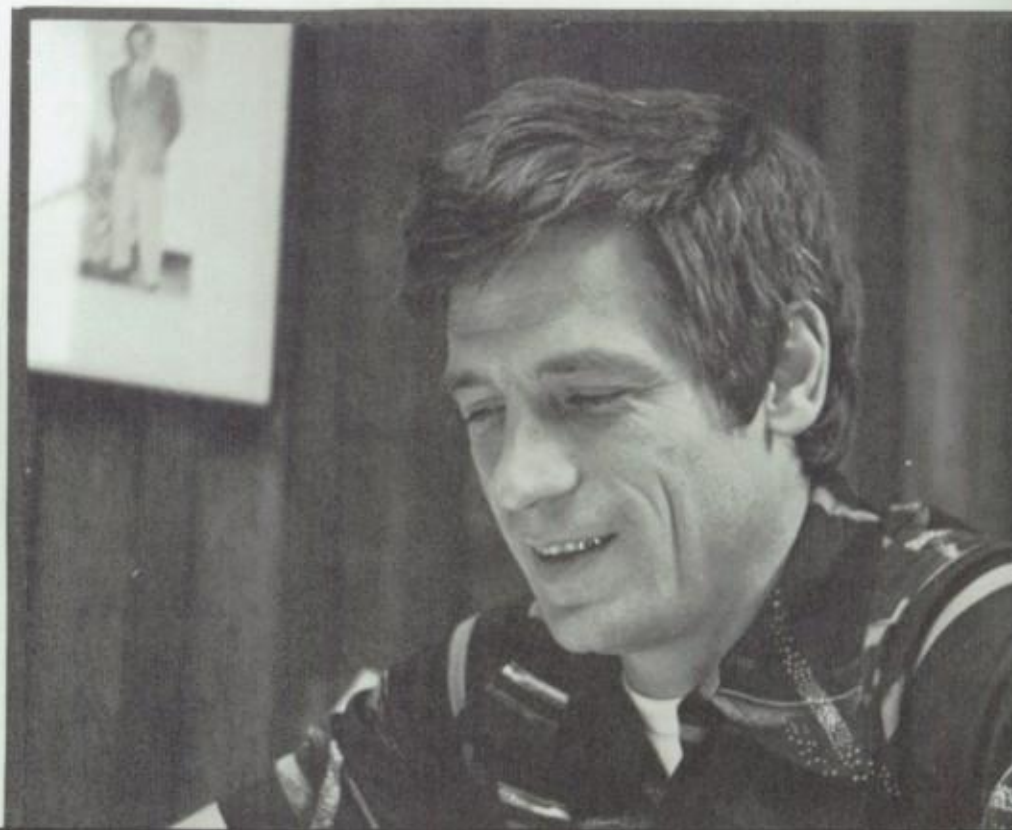

Tom Keough

Mr. Tom Keough, principal of SHS, graduated from Pomona High School, California. He went to numerous colleges. His favorite subject was math, while his least favorite was foreign language. His high school aim was to be a professional athlete or sports announcer. Mr. Keough's favorite time of day is any time the sun is shining and he is on the golf course. When asked how he puts on his shoes and socks, he replied, "...It varies." He also revealed, when asked, that he brushes his teeth in a circular motion, eats watermelon with a fork, forks the seeds unless they get in his mouth, in which case he spits them (if outdoors). His message to the world: "...Smile!"

Assistant administrators

Dr. Larry Jacobson, vice-principal at SHS, graduated from Sandpoint High School. He attended Whitworth and College of Idaho. His least favorite class was typing, but his favorite classes were band and math. He enjoys collecting old bottles and antiques as a hobby. When putting on his shoes and socks, he uses the sock-sock, shoe-shoe method. He brushes his teeth up and down, eats watermelon with a spoon and spoons the seeds. His least favorite food is macaroni and cheese. "Explore Christianity" is Dr. Jacobson's message for the world.

Mr. Chris Wilson, vice-principal at the ninth grade center, graduated from Trinity Prep, Sioux City, Iowa. He attended Creighton University. His hardest adjustment from counselor to vice-principal has been assuming the role of disciplinarian. His aim in high school was to be a priest. When asked about his teeth, Mr. Wilson confessed, "I follow Captain Kangaroo's advice of up and down, round and round." He eats watermelon with his hands, spits most of the seeds, and then worries about the ones he swallowed later. He hates all television commercials and liver. His message to the world is "Let's all learn to get along together and love one another".

Mr. Al Jacobson, athletic director at SHS, graduated from Sandpoint High. He attended Idaho State College and Whitworth. His favorite subject was biology, but he disliked English. His aim in high school was to be an attorney or a pharmacist. Mr. Jacobson also employs the sock-sock, shoe-shoe method when donning his shoes and socks. When asked how he brushes his teeth, he replied, "Very carefully." He eats watermelon with a fork, chipping the seeds out first. His hobby is accompanying his brothers to the dump to search for cans, bottles, and other old relics (one never knows whom one will run into at a dump). Mr. Jacobson's message to the world: "Good luck!"

HOMECOMING 1981

As the activities of the 1981 Football Festival Week unfolded, it was evident that the seniors would once again dominate the festivities. The Class of '82 won the decorating contest, the bug push and various class competitions, while the juniors came out on top of the annual spirit link contest.

Homecoming Royalty included Cindy Gottschalk, Robin Gould, Pam Newton and Melody Davis. Carlynn Coulter was crowned Homecoming Queen by Senior Class President Brian Long, and happily reigned over the Homecoming Dance where music was provided by the high school rock group . . . 'Relayer'.

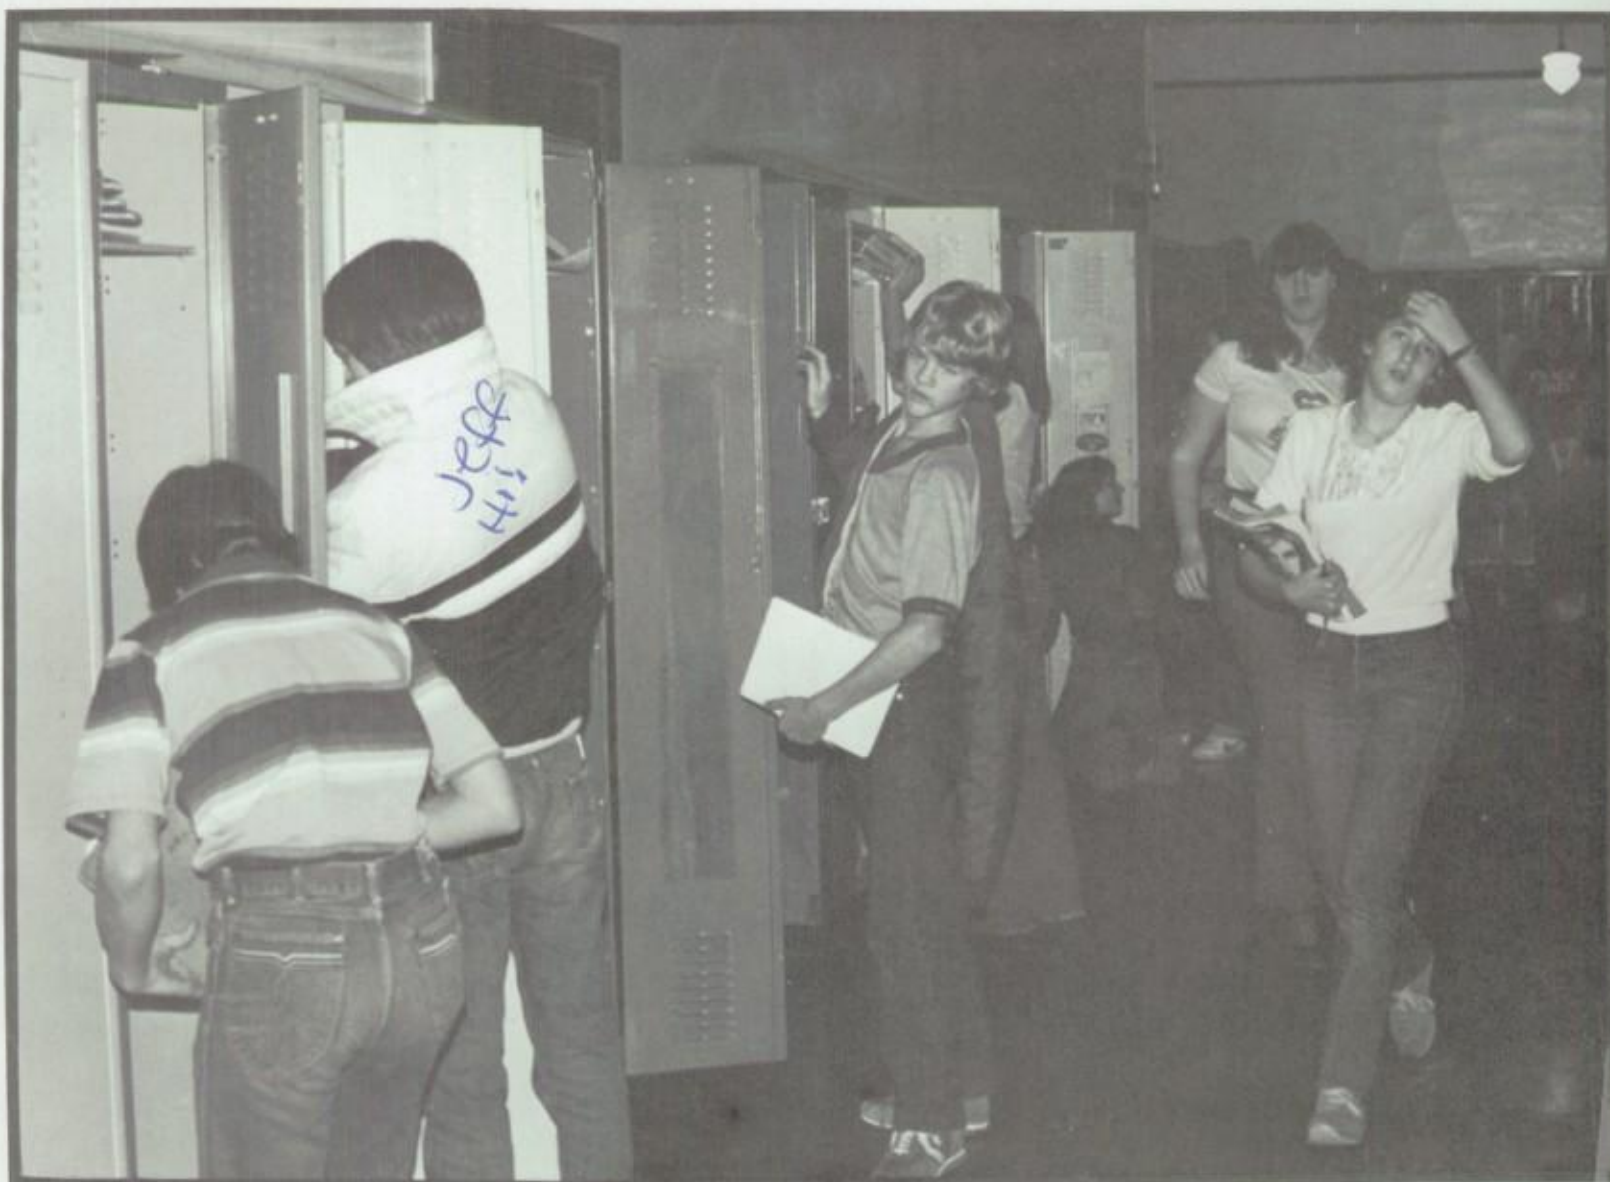

The second annual Parents' Day was another positive experience for parents, students and teachers, according to Principal Tom Keough. With many parents returning and a lot of new ones attending, a more relaxed atmosphere prevailed at the school than last year, even though some one-day students had a few butterflies.

The Ninth Grade Center

This year the former Sandpoint Junior High School became once again, in part, Sandpoint High School. The building, built in the early 1920's was once SHS. In earlier days the school included grades 9-12. Also, in it's heyday the old high school accommodated around 500 students.

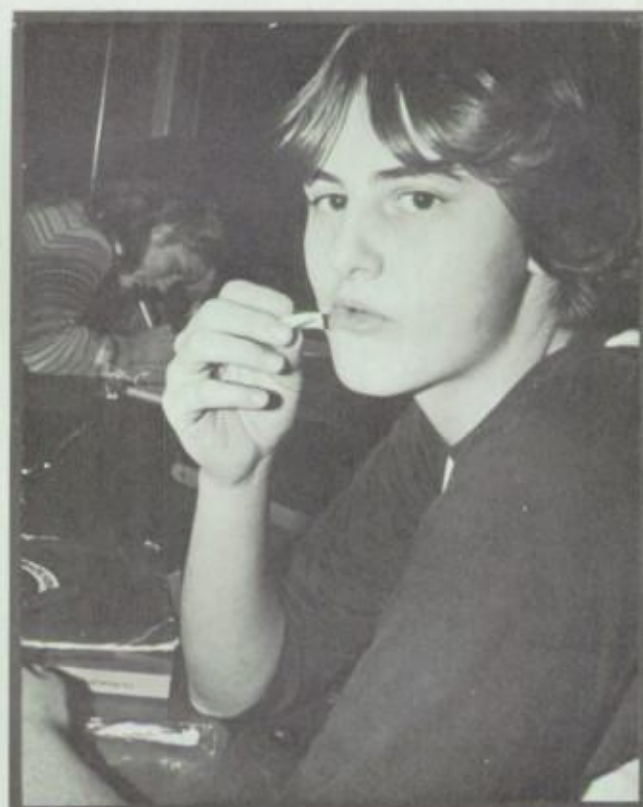

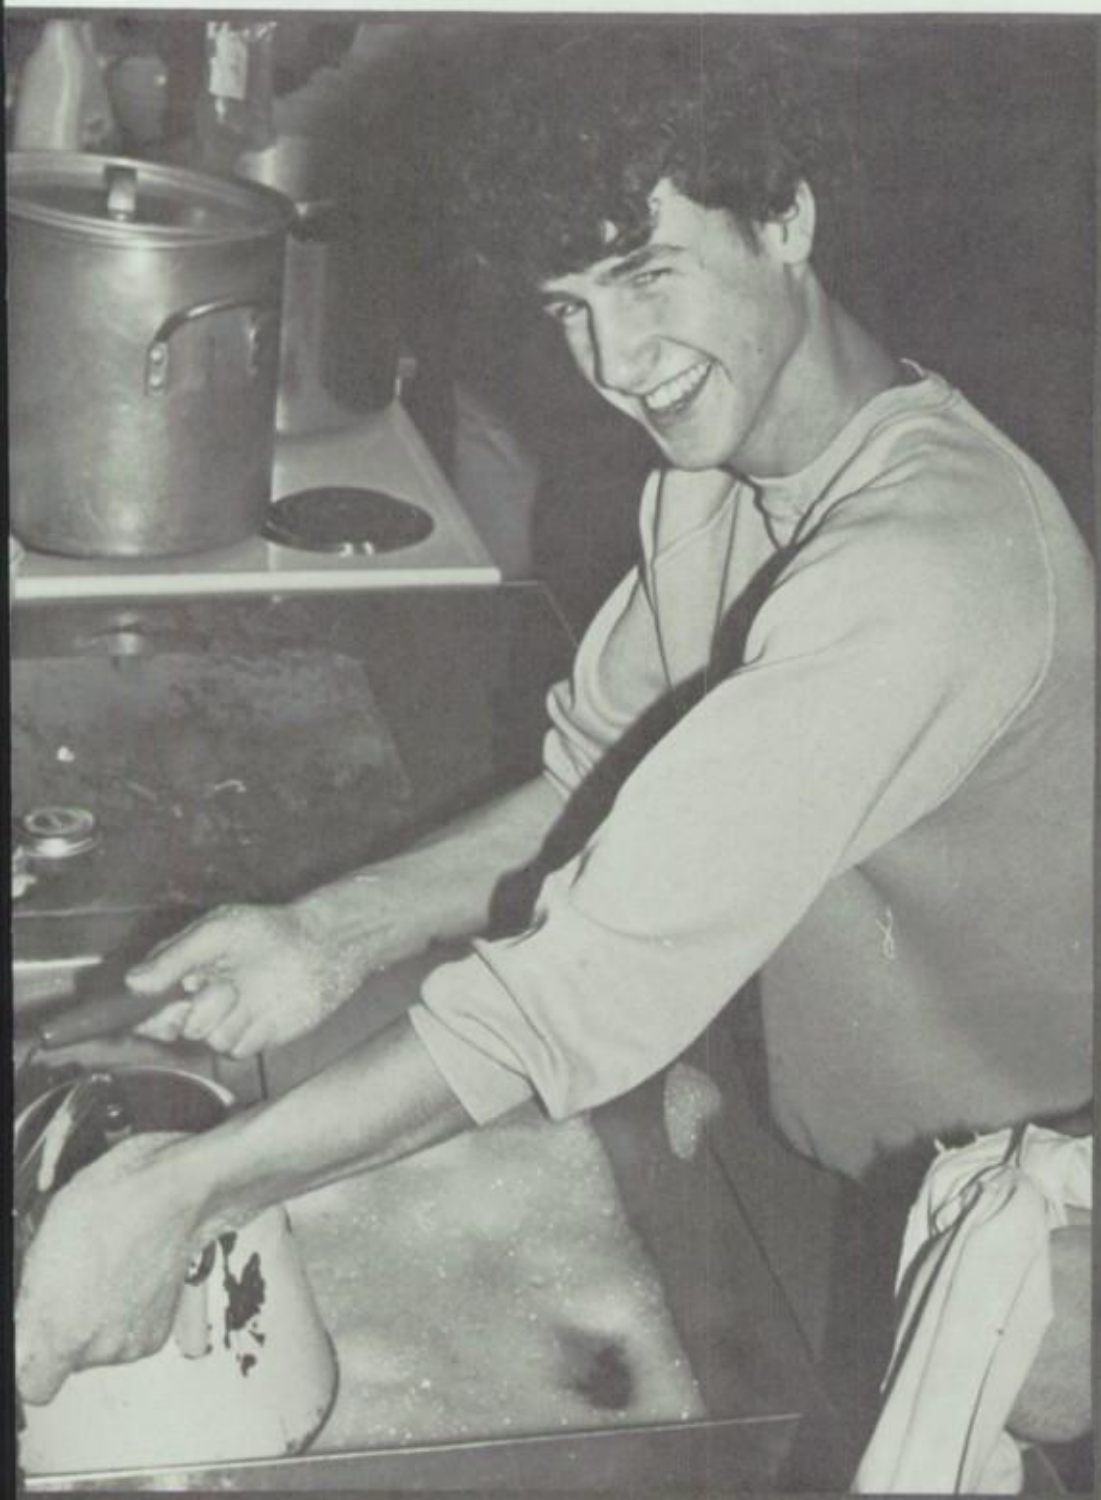

As the population of Sandpoint increased, so did the number of high school students and eventually the present high school had to be built. With the coming of the new high school the old building became Sandpoint Junior High. Sandpoint's 7th and 8th graders, and a good share of Bonner County's 9th graders attended it until the building of Stidwell Jr. High in 1974.

Today the building is making a comeback to Sandpoint High School as the Ninth Grade Center. Ninth grade students officially became part of the high school this year making SHS a four-year high school once again.

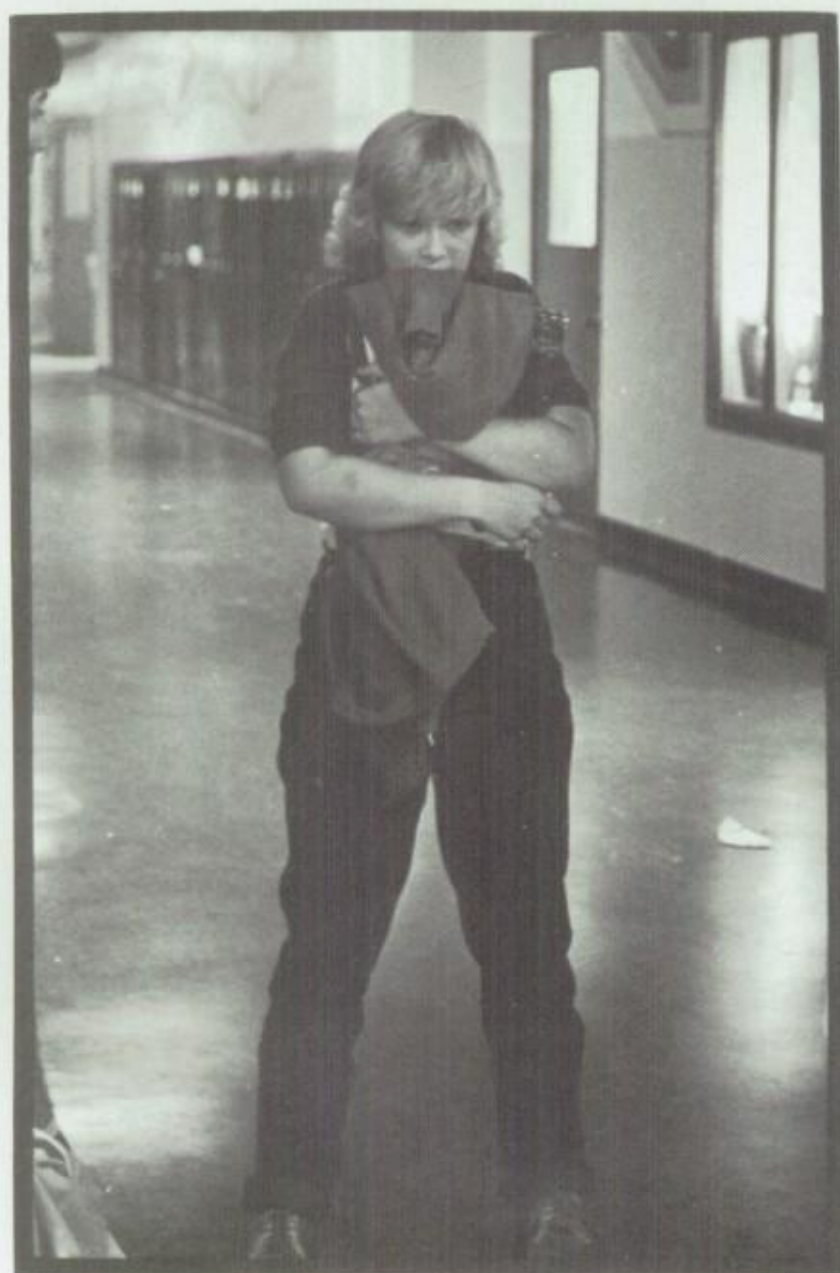

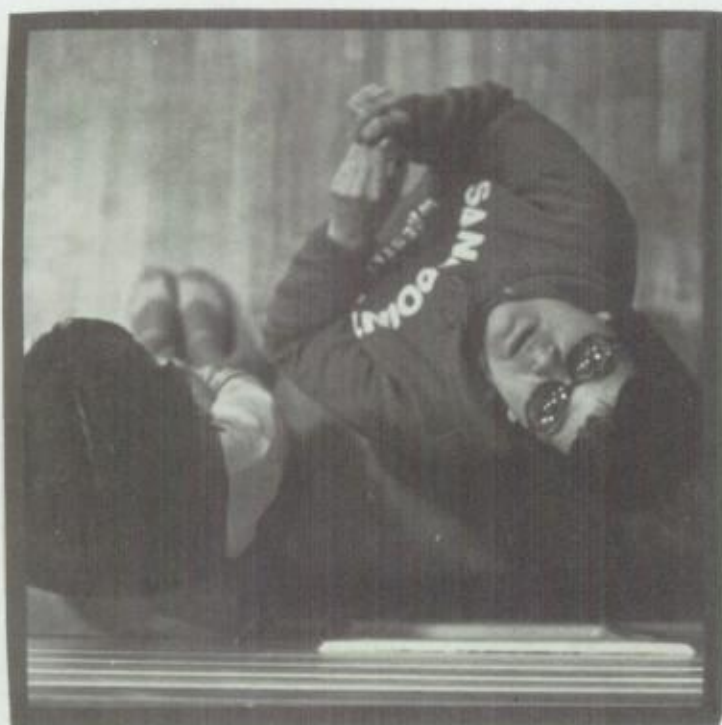

With two months of school completed and the fall athletics coming to a close, November could have been filled with the blahs. Not hardly though! Agatha Christie's thriller, The Hollow, brought drama lovers to the stage as SHS actors again displayed their skills. In the speaking department, Malia Kalkoske triumphed as first place in the annual Voice of Democracy contest. SHS junior Helen Griffin took second. And connoisseurs of fine spaghetti were delighted when the Senior Class sponsored a spaghetti dinner at the Community Hall; Jamie Leen, in turn, enjoyed the experience of dishwasher hands as he helped clean up. Other students managed to discover numerous remedies for the blahs as the month wore on.

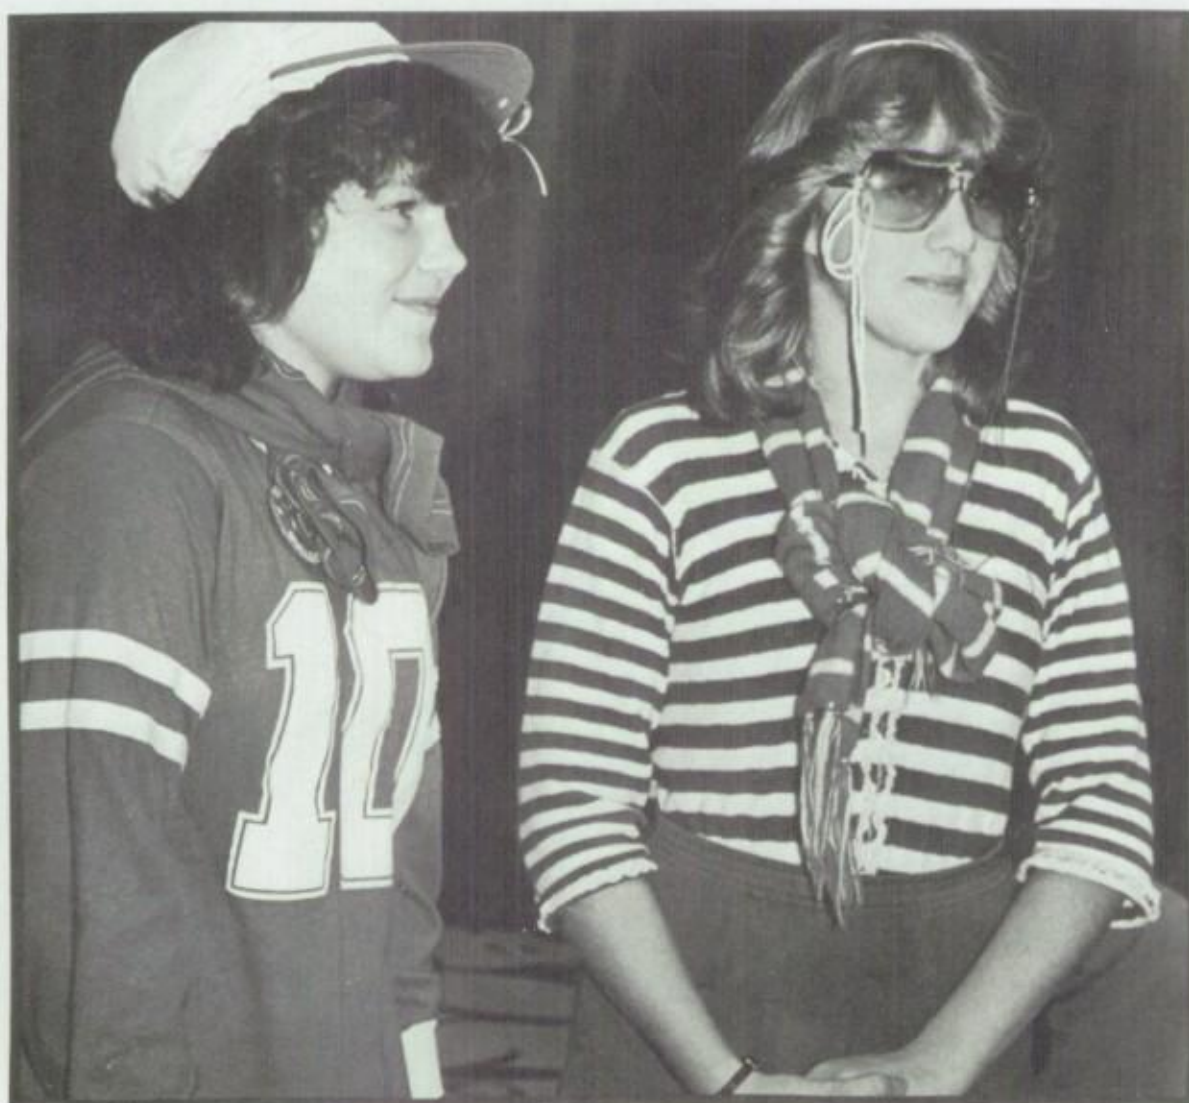

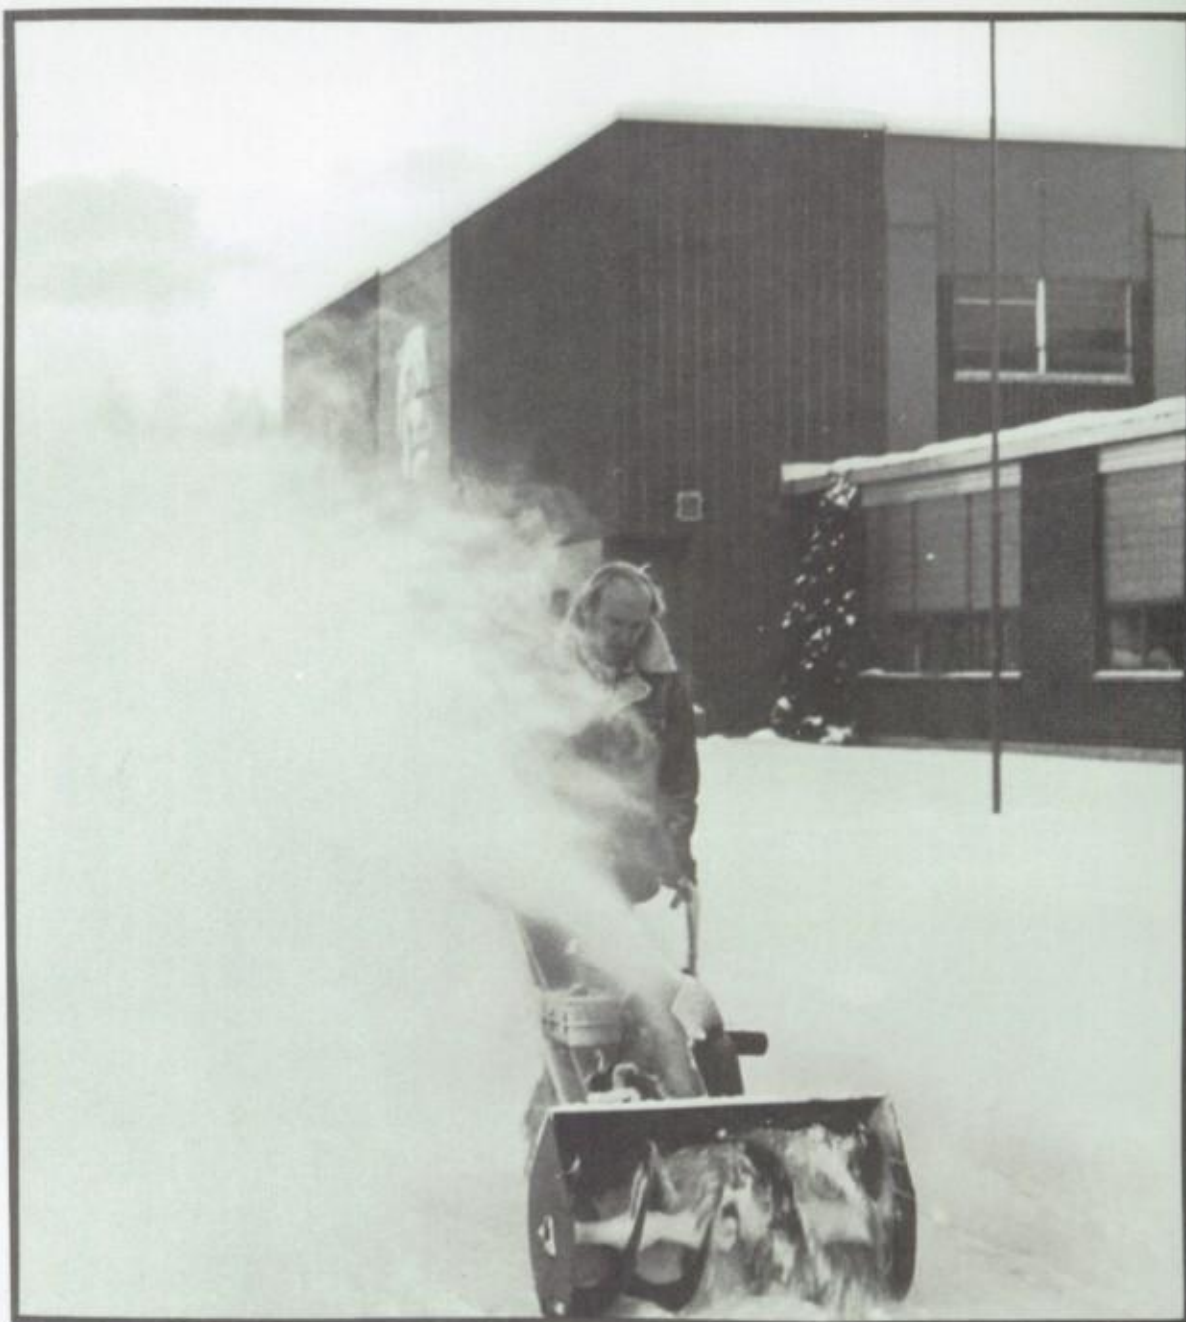

When but in winter
does one see so much in the little things that are life?

Look at us
Here we are
See what there is to see
Snow has come
With chilly fun
And endless frosty skies.

Boys' Staters

Six SHS juniors attended American Legion Boy's State this year. The Boys State program is held yearly at Boise State University and is a "learn by doing" program in which staters learn about local and state government.

This year's delegates held offices ranging from city mayors to state senators and representatives. "It was pretty cool" said Randy Marston, delegate.

Girls' Staters

This year's Girl's State program was held at Caldwell in June. Four SHS girls attended the educational program sponsored by the American Legion, and all held state offices.

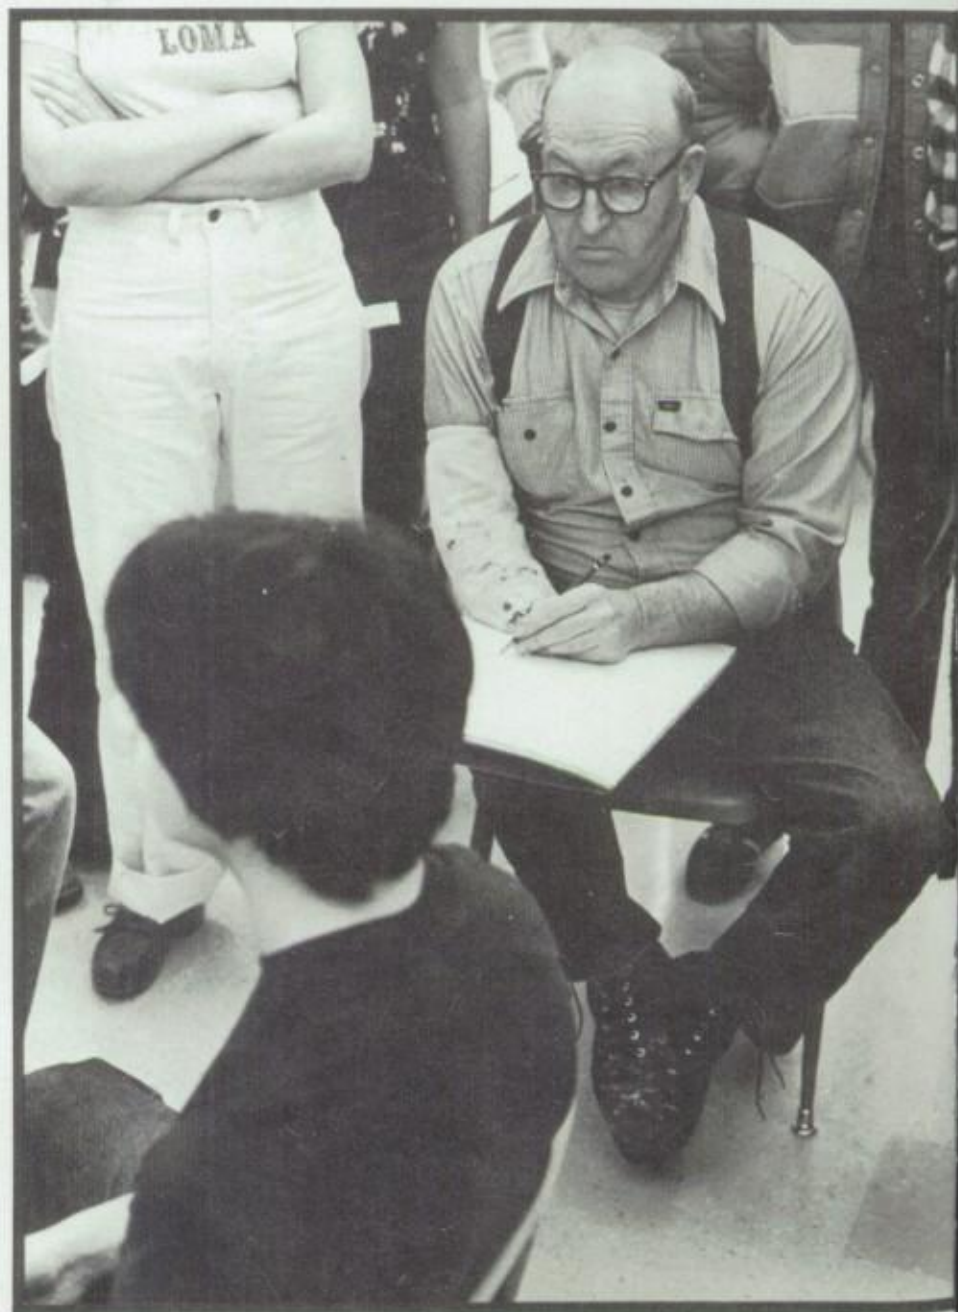

Girls from every county in Idaho attend the annual conference. Like boy's staters the girls are chosen in their junior year by American Legion and Auxillary members.

"Girls State was a great experience, I learned a lot about the way our state and local government operates," said delegate Linette Eddy.

Which class to choose? What career to go into? This January, students here had to make a decision about the farmer and were given a chance to learn more about various careers to help them with the latter. Who knows what one will choose given such an opportunity?

The weather was a friend to some and an enemy to many. The record seven and a half inches of rain that fell in February caused many problems. Many students were pleased with the unexpected vacation they had that month. Even with the boredom that seemed to settle for the inexplorable time between winter and spring, someone was always finding something interesting to do.

Merry.

Hah, I'm the first to write on this page. Well we've only got two more years of school left at ol' SHS. Aint' we lucky? I can hardly wait 'till '84 rolls around. Anyway good luck next year and have a crazy summer, maybe I'll see ya. See ya later.

Merry,
 I kind of wonder why I didn't get together with such a good looking blond.
 I feel kind of dumb - maybe one of these weekends we can go out and party together, I hope your year was as good as mine was, have a great summer and lets get together soon.

Merry,
 I don't know
 you very well but what I do know of you -
 I think you're a sweetie!
 I bet you can't wait until next year and you Juniors can initiate us Sophomores! Well, have a great summer
 and don't party too
 much! Love,

Coach Chris Lassen's 1981 Bulldog football squad, consisting of 33 players, experienced a mixed season this year. It comprised mostly of individual accomplishments rather than team.

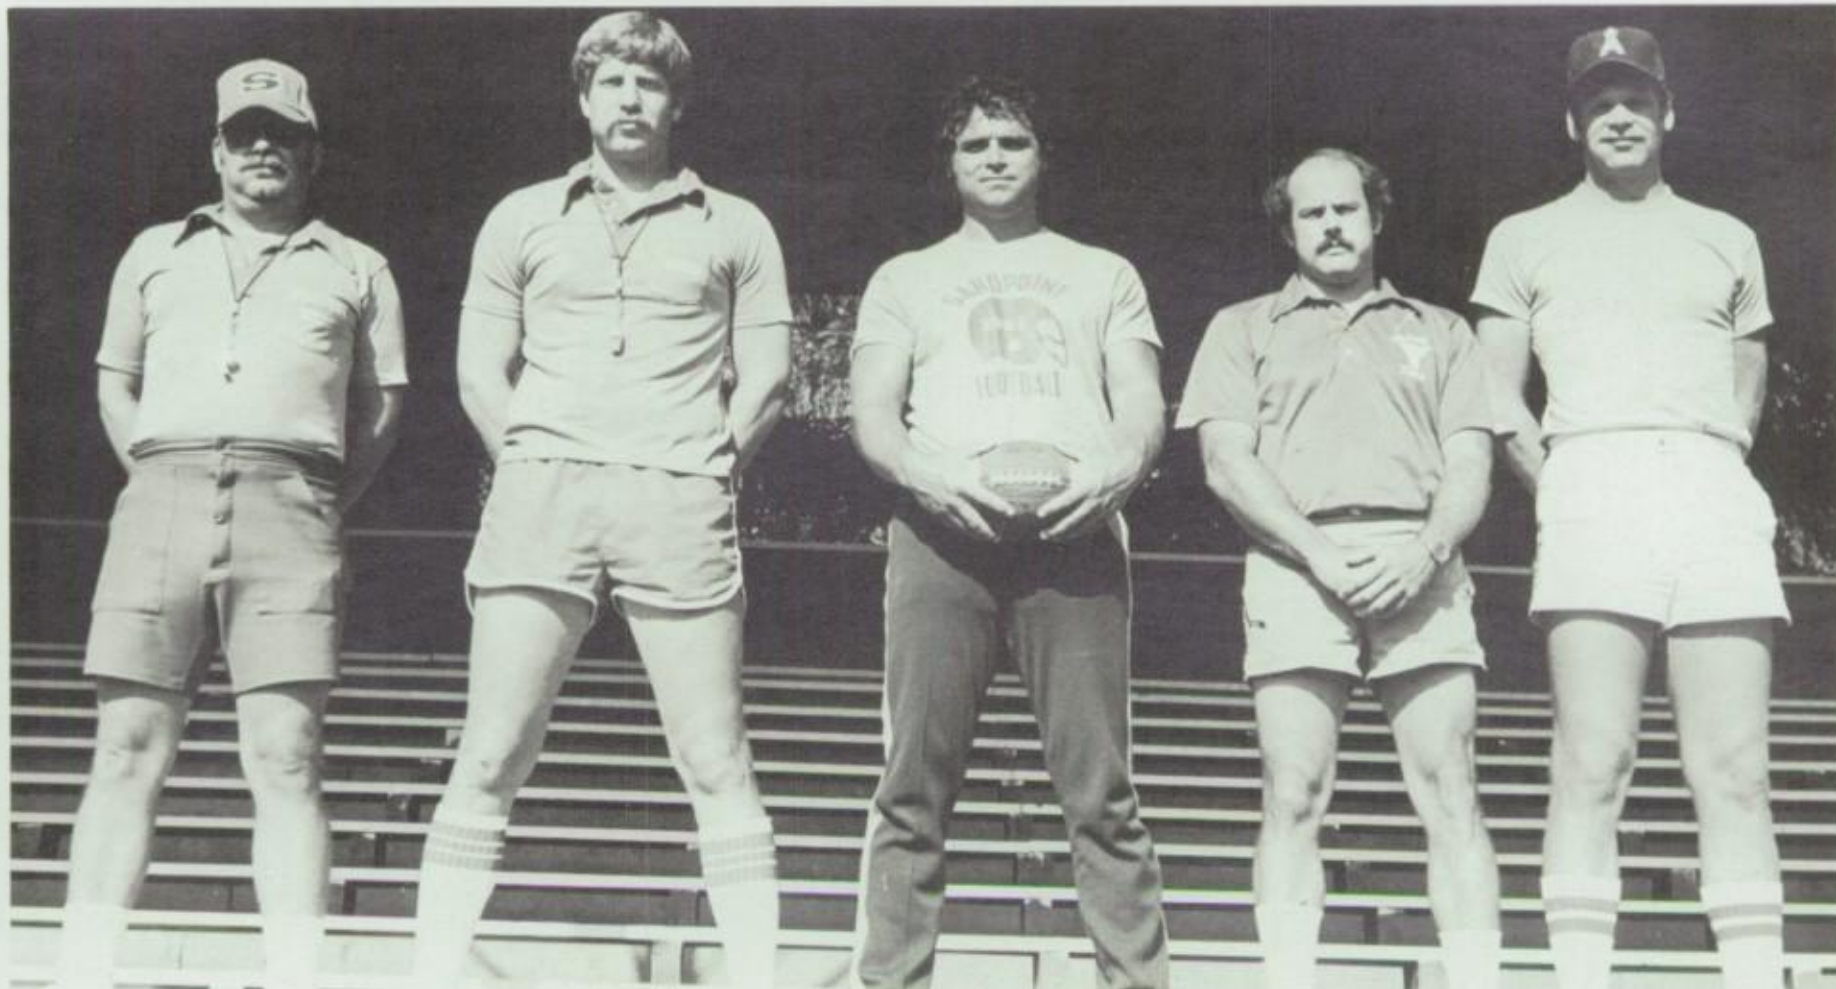

According to Coach Lassen, the Bulldogs lacked teamwork and defensive speed, which caused a lot of tense and sad moments. Most of the games were won or lost on individual efforts. The players lacked true teamwork. However, the team didn't end the season without the teamwork needed. They dominated Orofino 14-6 in their last game and upped their record to four wins and five losses. "It was very satisfying to see the team play together," Coach Lassen said.

Two seniors attained high individual successes this year. Mark Quillin was nominated for All State Honors and Roley Schoonover broke two school records. Schoonover completed two field goals in one game and completed five for the season.

To sum the year up, Senior Bryan Jacobson said. "It was worse than it should've been better than it could've been."

"It was a good year," said Varsity Basketball Coach Al Jacobson. "But not as good as we would have liked it to have been." The Bulldog team was made up of an enthusiastic group of players who were a little short and inexperienced. "The team worked hard although they had an inability to score," Jacobson noted, "because there were not many outstanding shooters."

The Team was at its best when they beat Lewiston twice after losing to them the first time in the playoffs. "That characterized the team more than anything," Coach Jacobson said, "They really worked hard."

"Every team is entitled to their chance and the boy's did well in terms of their ability," said Coach Jacobson.

Thirty-three students represented SHS on the wrestling mats this year. Coached by Mr. Ray Miller, there were twelve categories determined by weight. Miller reported that the wrestling team made all around improvements with nine men going to the State Tournament, after a season of six wins and eleven losses.

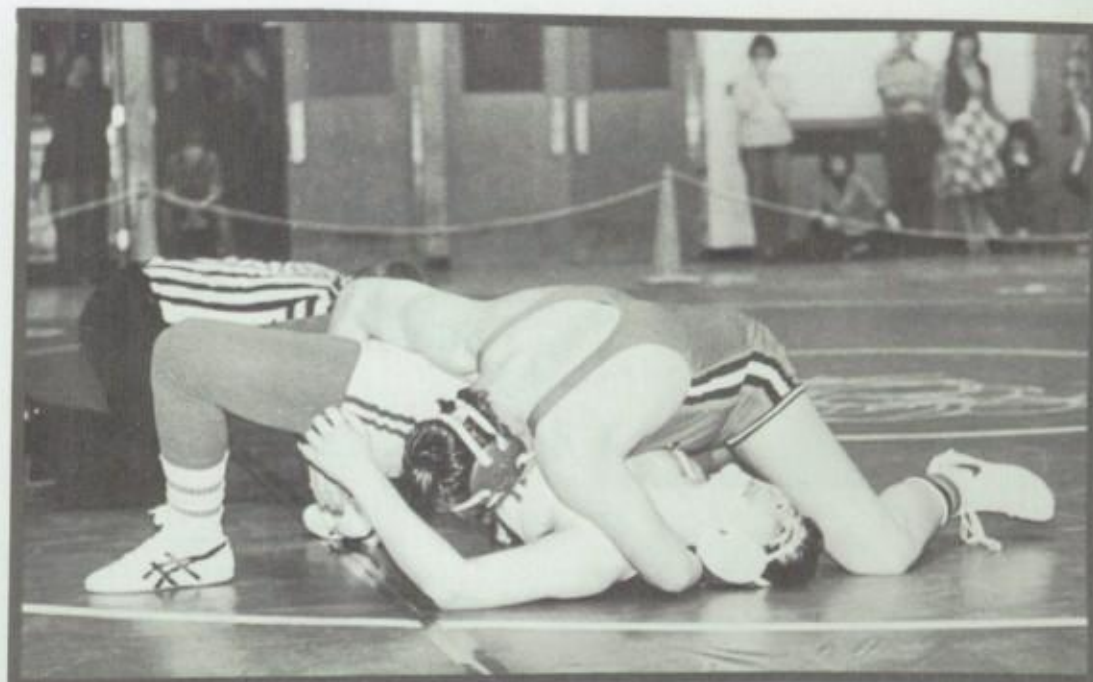

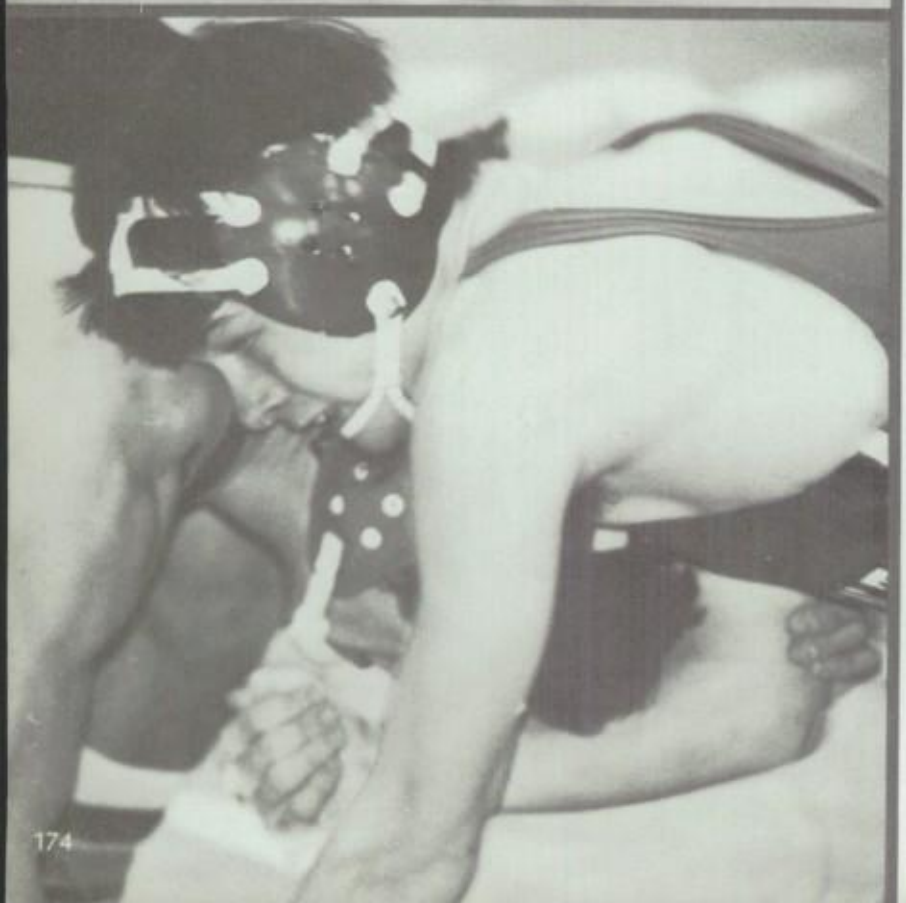

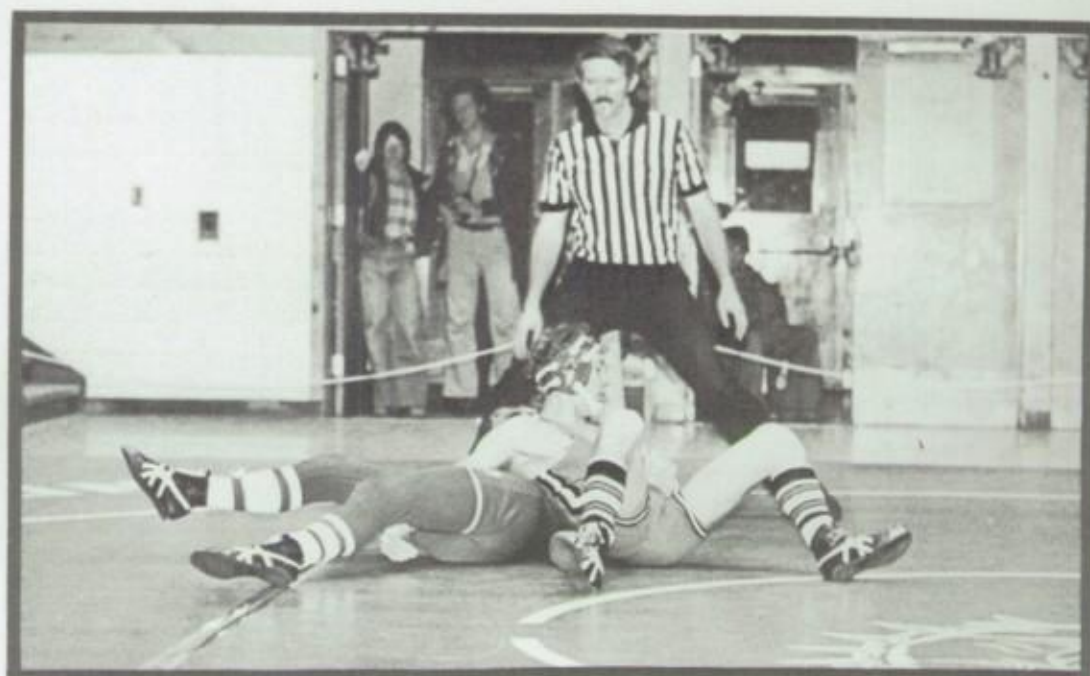

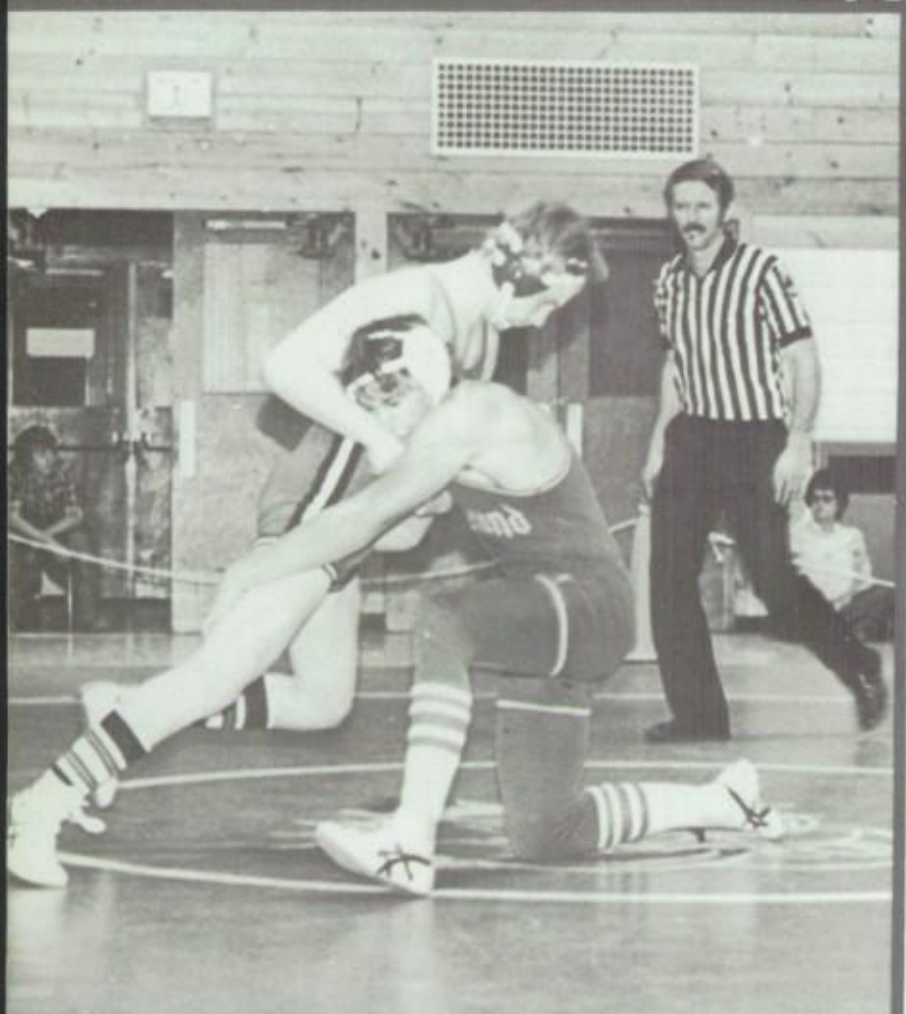

All hopes were pinned on matman Steve Kluver, who was state champ last year. Although he came home with a second place, his season record was 29-1, and his overall record is 82-7. "His potential is unlimited; he can go as far as he wants to" Miller said.

Bulldog Mat Men

Bittersweet Year

Even though the state tournament was a grave disappointment to this year's volleyball team their season was the best in SHS history—"22-0".

First they reaped the Cheney and Mead tournament titles and subsequently earned the tag as a "powerhouse" by a columnist for the Spokane's Spokesmen Review newspaper. In addition, the team took the crown as the Inland Empire League victors as well as the top spot for the Intermountain League. They easily whipped through the A-I district tournament in two straight matches and emerged as the tournament's triumphant.

The Bulldog's schedule was tough this year. They had a game three days a week and practiced every other day except Sunday.

"They worked really hard. We demanded a lot from them; we demand a lot more than a lot of colleges ask of their athletes," said head volleyball coach and Idaho's Coach of the Year Pam Parks. "It's hard to put out 100 percent all the time, but this year's team put out close to it, if not a 100 percent all the time with minimal complaints."

According to Coach Parks, the 1981 Bulldogs were the most knowledgeable and skilled team she's ever coached. All of them were equally skilled. They played smart and adjusted well to different situations.

All over Idaho the Bulldogs were known for their excellent defense, Coach Parks said.

"I am really proud of their record this year, although at times I got very frustrated with them. It'll be a hard record for any team to beat," Miss Parks expressed.

The Idaho State A-1 and A-2 volleyball tournaments were held in Sandpoint this year. Sandpoint fans were no less supportive and the tournament proved a success.

There was a considerable amount of pressure for the Bulldogs being the defending state champions, even if it was a different team, and playing in front of their hometown. It just happened to be their one bad day of the year.

State Coach Parks, "It just wasn't our time to win."

BULLDOG TRIUMPH

The Bulldogs take second at the Girls' Basketball Tournament? A thought of such success at the beginning of the 1981-1982 season did not occur to Mr. Hamilton, one of this season's two SHS girls' coaches. Because of Mr. Hamilton's leave of absence toward the end of the season, Mr. Ron Hunt stepped in and took the girls through their remaining games.

"I could see this improvement more in this team than in any other team I've coached. . . I thought their performance (against Coeur d'Alene) was the best effort by an SHS girls' basketball team ever or at least in the top two or three," said Mr. Hamilton.

After achieving a 16-3 seasonal record, and defeating Lewiston at the district tournament in three games, they headed for State. The girls worked hard through the three games they played, defeating Idaho Falls and Burley, successively.

The final championship game saw the Bulldogs matched against the Meridian Warriors. The girls put forth a strong effort, but unfortunately the Warriors dominated until the end.

During the season at least five school records fell. One included the largest margin of points in a losing game which occurred against Libby with a 25 point difference. The second was the highest number of points averaged by an opponent against the Bulldogs.

In addition, two individuals set personal records. Sophomore Michelle Chastain earned a rebound record (176) and one for the most personal fouls (29). Senior Diann Hamann recorded 84 assists breaking the old record by three.

Considering the switch of coaches in the middle of the season, Mr. Hunt, the girls second coach said, "They did a fantastic job and are a tribute to SHS."

"Never have I been prouder of a team that I've coached," stressed Mr. Hamilton.

Runners-up

Track and Field

Despite inexperience and a shortage of returning lettermen, the 1982 track team showed promise and potential. "It's a young team with an enthusiastic group of sophomores who were district champs as freshmen," according to head Coach Jerry Lee. The team mentor forecasted a strong season for the girls with returnees such as Marcy Tomten, Krishele Morris and Laurie Bristow. In addition, Lee expected good performances from distance runners who trained with Ed Hawkins Volunteer Assistant, during the winter.

Other track personnel included Bill Adams, who acted equally with Lee as head coach; and Pam Parks and Chris Lassen, who were assistants.

Weightlifting

During first, second fifth, and sixth periods many SHS athletes could be found in the weightroom pressing weights and listening to music. Coach Chris Lassen noted that "The body conditioning program is not just for athletes."

SHS's weightlifting program had several improvements this year. These included two new benches and two new racks built by the shop department. Also, the weight room was painted and a film room for athletics was added to the facility.

Golf

The turnout for golf this year doubled, according to Mr. Ken Beaudoin, adviser and coach. Casey Fournier, Eric Zimmerman, and Eric Thompson, returning letterman, swung up the team's enthusiasm.

Matches rotated between Sandpoint, Coeur d'Alene, Wallace, Kellogg, Bonners Ferry and Priest River. All teams played each other twice to determine winning berths in the regional tournament which was hosted by Sandpoint. Team and individual winners of the regional play offs went on to state.

Golf continued to gain in popularity on the Bulldog home front, according to Beaudoin.

Cheerleaders

"We've got spirit, yes we do!" The terrific enthusiasm of the Sandpoint High Cheerleaders was reflected in every project they undertook whether it be cheering at the games or working on one of their various fund raisers. Being a member of the cheerleading squad included many responsibilities, not only must they learn numerous cheering routines, they must also conduct all pep assemblies.

They also sponsored Winter Sports Festival Week which helped to relieve the after Christmas blahs. During this week there was different activities each noon hour, a big pep assembly, decorating of the lockers of team members, then a dance to finish up the week.

Some of their major fund raisers were "pennies for pep", cakewalks, and a very successful Country Crystal sale. They also took time out of their busy schedule to teach grade school girls basic cheers to use at games.

"I think our new system with eight varsity and three three J.V. Cheerleaders has worked out well," said adviser Sharon Coulter, "It gives the sophomores an opportunity for improving their skills before they try out varsity.

"I have enjoyed working with the cheerleaders this year. I want to wish all the girls well as they graduate and prepare for their future, or return to SHS," she added.

ACTIVITIES

Art Club

CK

Are you sure Norman Rockwell started out this way? The eight members of the SHS Art Club painted Christmas scenes of the downtown store windows and was once again the major fundraiser, a long with designing advertising posters for different clubs and business activities, other activities were setting up and presenting a spring art show, and having a wind chime shop with a downtown art display.

According to Mr. Anderson, "The purpose of the Sandpoint High School Art club is to further the understanding, knowledge, appreciation, and promotion of the arts among it members, SHS student body and the community."

The executive director was Clint Eveland, Art director Andy Morris, Business Manager, Sarah Cogswell, sec/treas, Barbara Kelley, and historian/publicity manager, Nathan Kibler.

Cedar Post

The high standard of excellence of the Cedar Post has been maintained with the assistance of a large, experienced and dedicated staff. The Cedar Post is the only high school newspaper published weekly.

To help finance the trip to the National Journalism Conference in San Francisco this spring, the staff ran a concession stand at the volleyball and basketball games and also published athletic programs. According to Adviser Bob Hamilton, the group's major objective is "to provide students with an understanding of the primary mass media functions to show how a newspaper is an important part of society and to prove training in writing."

Ponderettes

A three or four minute performance was all most people saw of the Ponderettes at football and basketball games and pep assemblies. But there was a lot more to being a Ponderette than that.

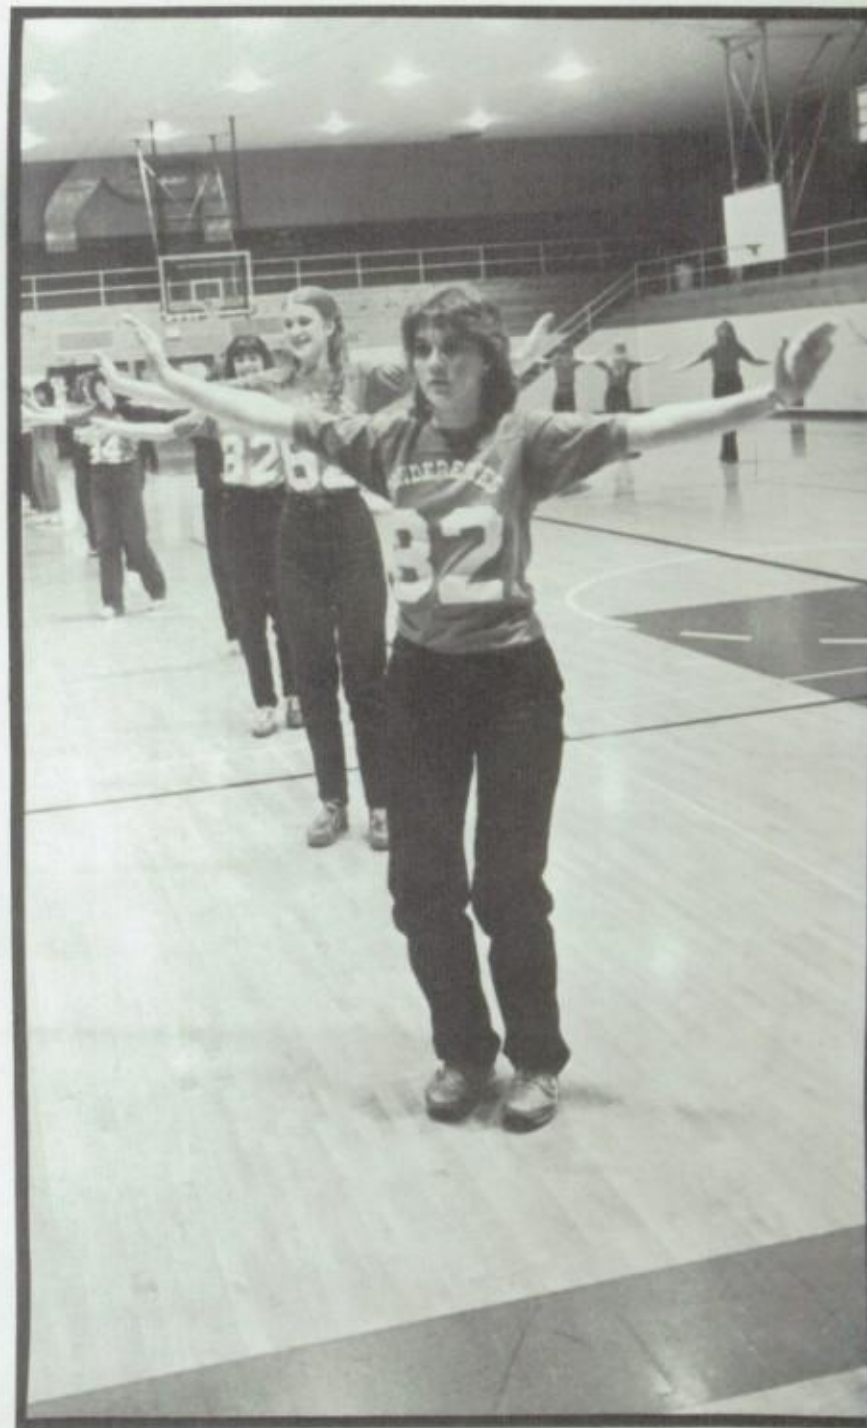

Ponderette practices took many long hours, both early morning and in the summer to prepare for parades and half time performances.

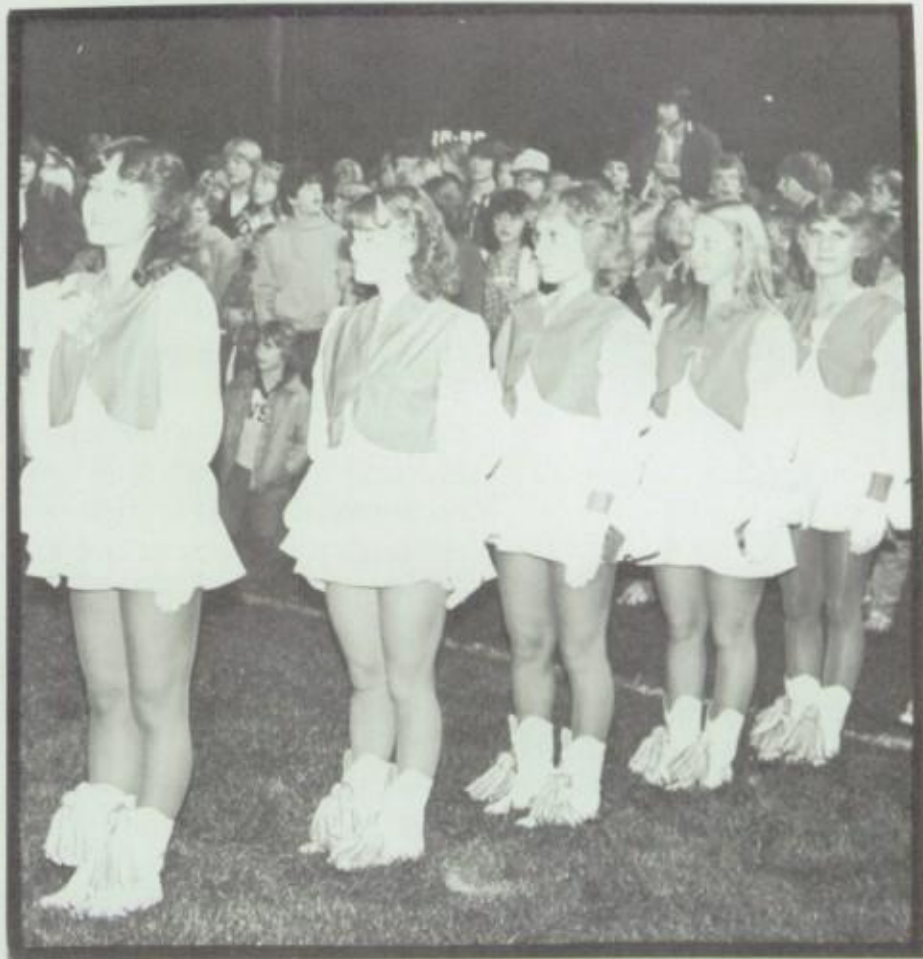

"It was sometimes hard to struggle out of bed to get to practice by 7:30 in the morning, but the performances itself made it all worthwhile," commented sophomore Kristi Blackwell.

The possibility of getting new uniforms encouraged the girls to sell Lasting Impression Crystals to raise money. They also collected money from sponsors.

The marchers planned to travel to Spokane to march in the Lilac Festival and to Wenatchee, Washington to be in the Apple Blossom Parade.

This year's captain was Tammy Parsley and the co-captain was Theresa Loosmore. Jan Sherberg served as adviser.

F.F.A.

^{CK}
Sandpoint's chapter of the Future Farmers of America started off the year with a picnic at the city beach to get the members geared up. The first major activity was the Bonner County Fair. The members who had livestock projects showed and sold their animals. The club also decorated a booth at the fair, which won the "Best Youth Organization Booth" award.

The next activity was the chapter's major money maker, the Annual Harvest Auction. Although the bidding audience was small, they still made more than $450.00. Another annual event that proved to be successful was the turkey shoot which raised $80.00.

National FFA week activities had to be held in March rather than February because of school closures. Throughout this week the chapter held its arm wrestling contest, treasure hunt, and a teachers' hamburger feed. The culmination of the year was the annual Parent-member Awards Banquet. At the banquet, members were recognized for outstanding work in the past year and officers were elected for the coming year.

What is their secret to such a successful and prosperous year? The credit can be given to the great group of officers and their second year advisor Mr. Gary Hibbs and the supportive club members, according to Sharleen Gwinn.

FHA-HERO

^{ck} Sugar and Spice and all that's nice were the ingredients for FHA/HERO as they learned and used their homemaking skills. Jackie Bentz and Pam Eimers taught the five home economics areas which included child development, family living, finances, cooking, and sewing.

This year's activities in the club were dressing up on Halloween and visiting the hospital and sponsoring a dance marathon for Muscular Dystrophy. The group sold crafts and cookbooks before Christmas.

The only requirement to belong to FHA/HERO was be enrolled in a home economics class. Their main goal this year was to have more organization within the group, and to make people more aware of the group and its function.

The main fundraiser for the Leohono each year was their fall carnival. The only change this year is that it was held in the spring. Carnival royalty were Anne VanCuren, Jeri Self and Rebecca Briggs.

Leohono, the Sandpoint chapter of the national honor Society, gives scholarships to one or more deserving seniors each year. The money for those scholarships comes from the carnival, spring Hike-bike-a-thon, and their bake sales.

Assisting president Kim Smith were vice-president Steve Mills and secretary-treasurer Anne Van Curen.

Mime & Masque

^{CK↓}
Move over Broadway! Here comes Sandpoint High's Mime & Masque. An epidemic number of people seem to have been bitten by the drama bug, with a record number of about 60 auditioning for the fall play.

They opened the season with Agatha Christie's thriller "The Hollow," directed by Dave Jones, which was well supported by local theatre goers.

M&M also performed skits for groups around town, and felt that the community has become more aware of the club this year than ever before.

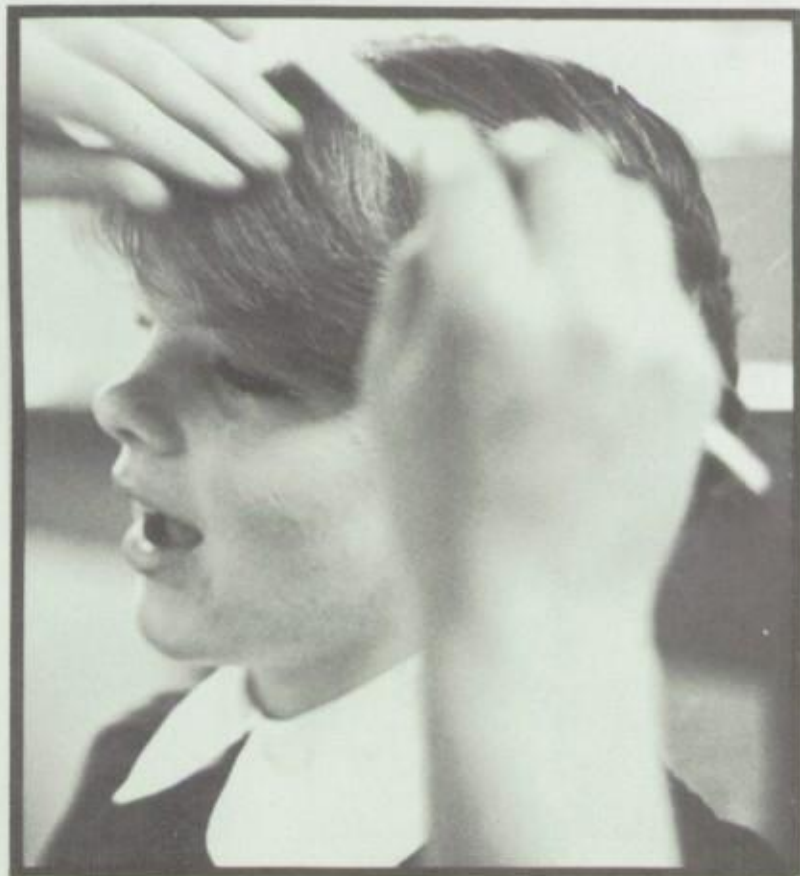

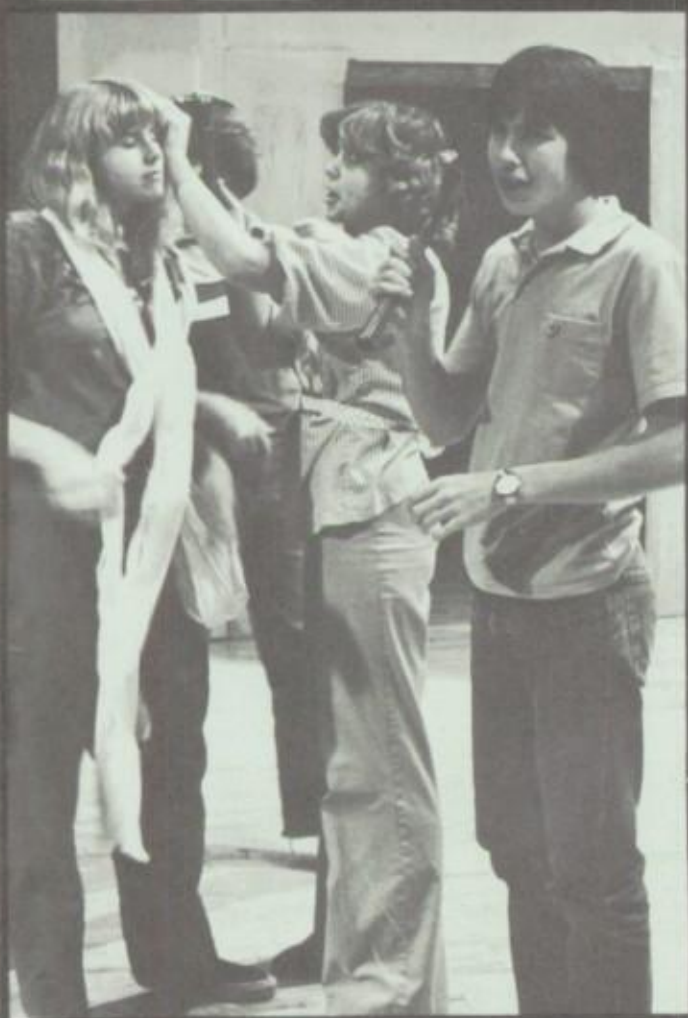

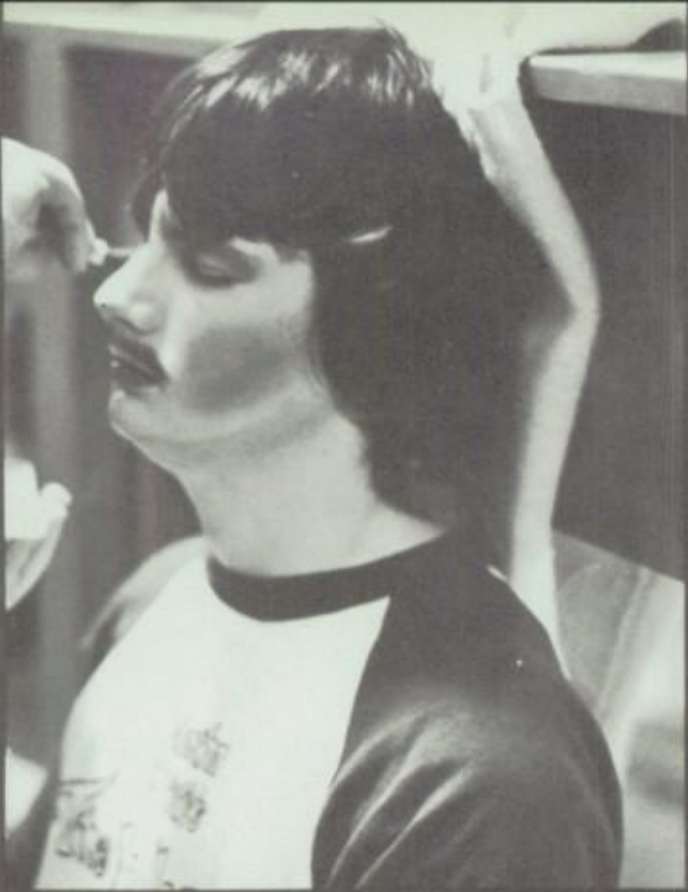

Mrs. Nancy Miller advised the group, and Mr. Jim Bauer added his able assistance in the technical department.

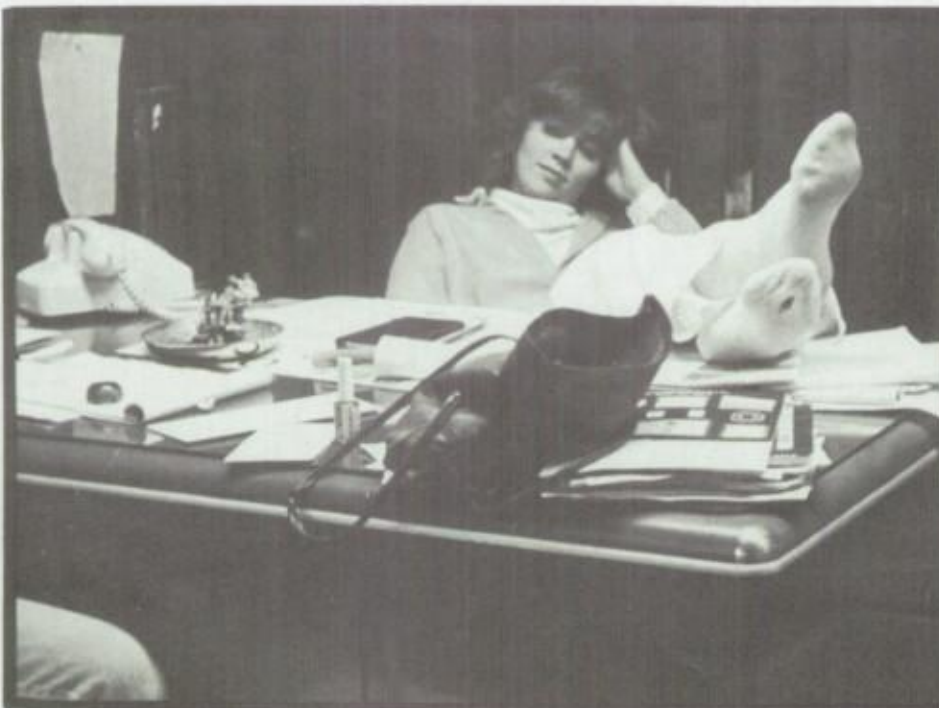

The spring musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," directed by Jeannie Davis and Dave Jones, was also well received.

When Pres. Taica Unanue was asked how she felt about the club's progress she said, "Over all it's been a very productive year. The enthusiasm has been great, and there's been more participation this year than I've ever seen before," Taica was assisted by vice-pres. Brian Long and sec.-treas. Dana Stockman.

Monticola I wrote this CK

SLAVERY REINSTATED!! Could have been the theme for the 1981-82 Monticola staff.

Layouts being drawn and redrawn, pictures being taken and retaken, copy being written and rewritten, deadlines, deadlines, and a new form of cuss words that are perfectly legal ... all these things go into making a yearbook.

Throughout the year the staff slaved in room 4 trying to keep their sanity and get the book done at the same time. And the finished product made it all worthwhile. Editor-in-Chief Jeralyn Lewis added, "The staff has been extremely helpful and enthusiastic, which has made my job much easier!"

"There have been numerous practical jokes among the staff this year," said Mrs. Marianne Love, "but underneath it, all they are the best of friends."

Music Department

The SHS music department harmonized under yet another new leader this year. Mr. Michael Lajko took over Orchestra, Fantasy, Stage Band, Pep Band, as well as the largest Concert and Marching Band ever in the history of Sandpoint High School, with 87 members. Choir remained under the leadership of Dona Meehan.

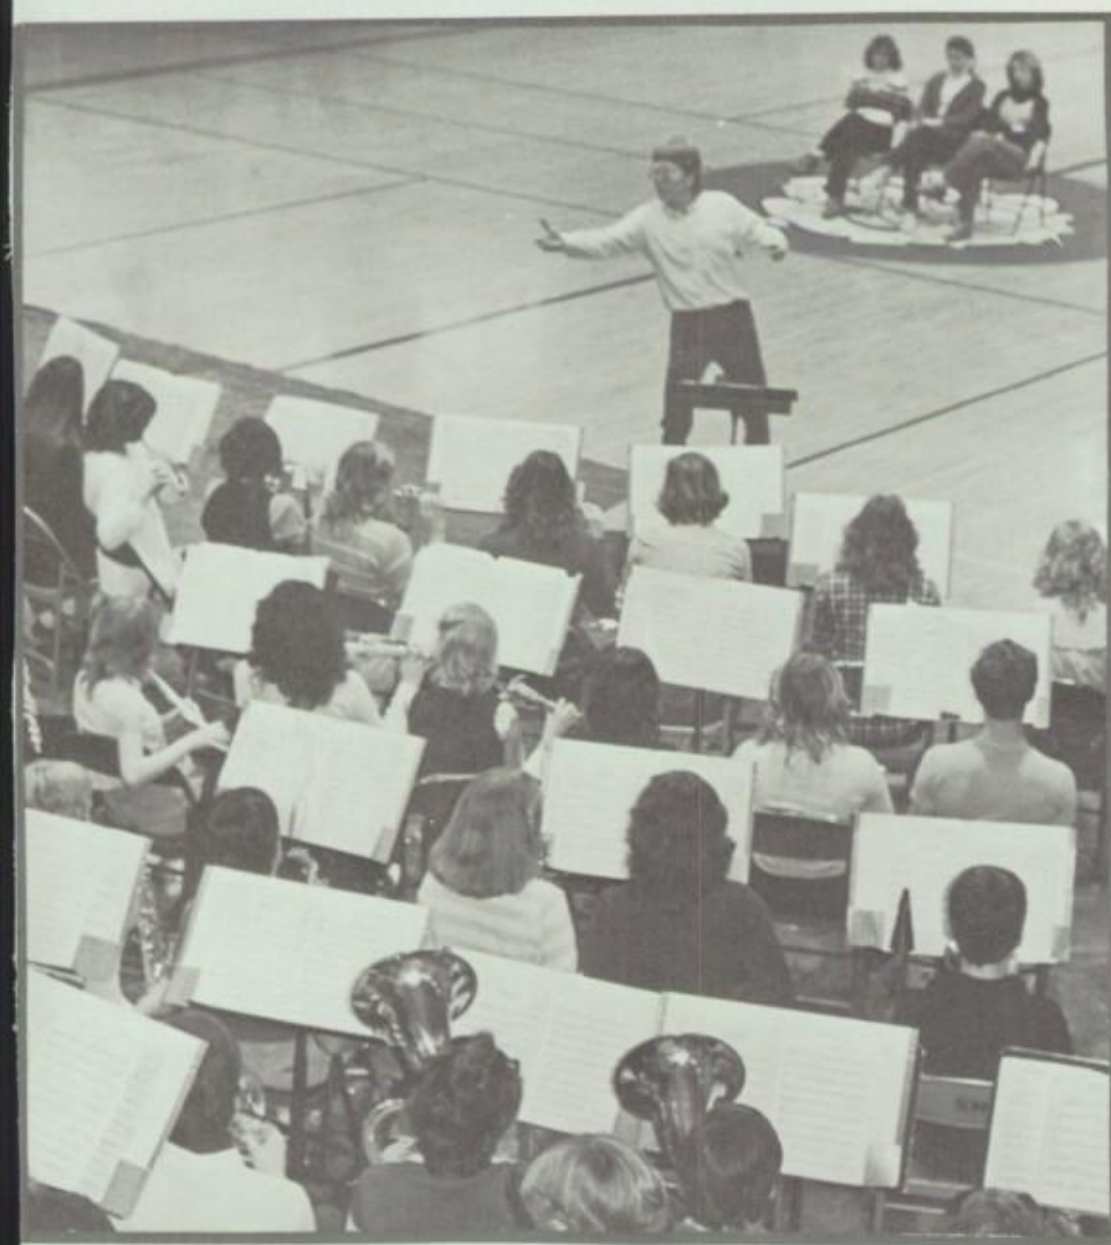

Along with the annual Christmas concert, musically inclined groups presented command performances at local events and businesses. Music for the annual spring musical was provided by the music department.

Fantasy took its show on the road with a Halloween trip to the outlying schools. Pep Band and Concert Band entertained at home sporting events and played for the State Volleyball Tournament. Choir planned to attend the All-State Competition, performing in both Full Choir and Solo and Ensemble divisions.

According to Mr. Lajko, the purpose of the music department is not solely to perform at athletic events. "Music is a fine art. It has a right to be taught on its own merit."

All in all, scarcely a week went by without a melody of some variety wafting through the halls of Sandpoint High.

"Take a letter Miss Jones," The 20 members of the Office Education Association (O.E.A.) prepare for a career in the business world by becoming proficient in such classes offered. SHS has classes like Business education, typing, shorthand, and book-keeping; membership requires completion of at least two of these courses. Club adviser Imogene Davis said that although this year's club and classes were the smallest ever, they didn't lack enthusiasm. Business club traditionally operates the student store which helped provide the funds to go to Spokane and Canada on business tours. OEA is a national organization and the members participate in state and national competitions of their business skills.

Pep Club

SK

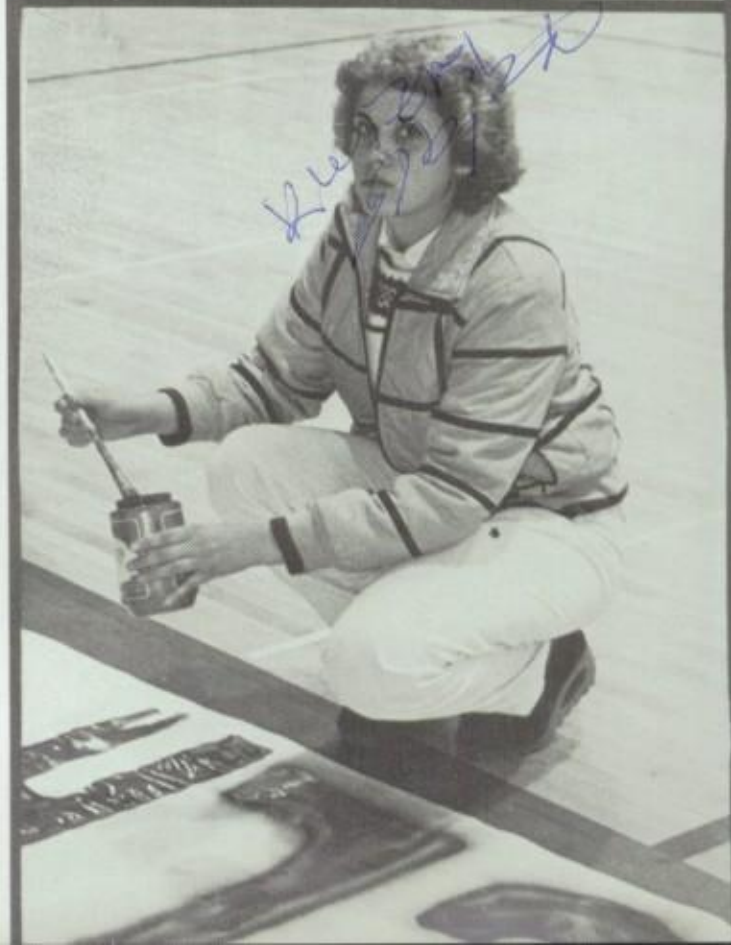

New and better than ever! That's this year's Pep Club. By "new" we mean that the group has a new format. The membership has increased with the admittance of freshmen to the club, and what was traditionally considered an all girls club is now welcoming the guys to join also. According to Eva Whitehead, this is the first year a boy has ever taken part (Jon Atmore) and he has proven to be an asset by designing the club's shirts. Officers included Ann Zelinski, pres; Lee Lubbers, vice pres; Barbie Van Den-

Berg, secretary-treas.

Major Pep Club activities included collecting tickets at games, working in the concession stand, serving at the annual athletic banquets, and making favors for activities such as Football Festival Week and Winter Sports Festival Week.

According to Miss Whitehead, "This year's group has been very active; the attendance ranges from 20 to 50 members depending on the time of the year."

Ski Club

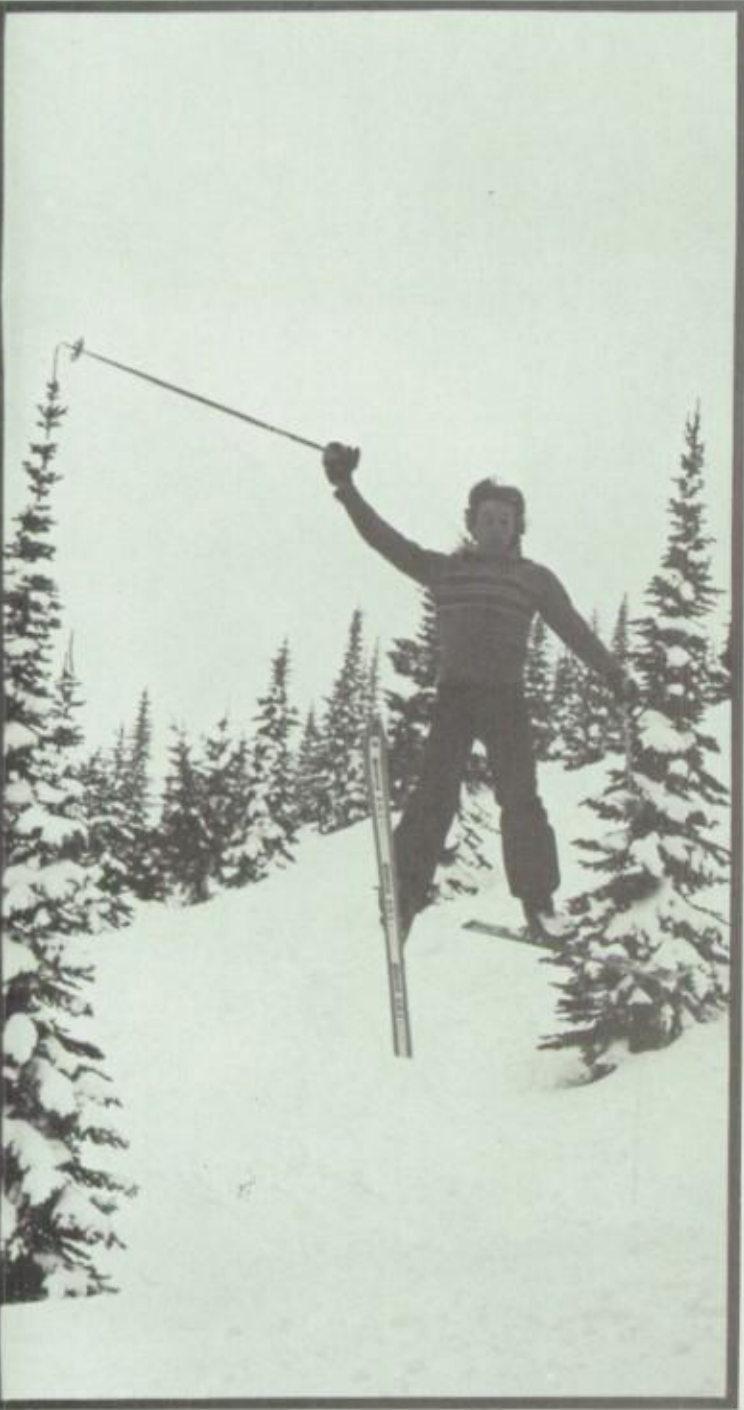

Plagued with delays and some disappointments, this year's Ski Club members managed to keep smiling. Although several of their trips were foiled by bad weather they managed to finally try out the slopes of Big Mountain in early March.

To finance this venture, Ski Club was busy the entire fall and winter splitting wood, seeking donations and selling pennants. The money earned more than paid for the trip to Kalispell; thus, a few of the club members were able to take a one-day trip to enjoy spring skiing.

"We really appreciate Mr. Marker's help as adviser this year" says Sec./Tres. Jeralyn Lewis. Other officers included Pres. Jamie Leen and Vice. Pres. John Muckler.

Student Council

“Who’s got the Student Council report this week?”
 “Uh-well . . . I sort of forgot.”
 “It seemed as if some of the home room representatives had trouble finding their way to the Student Council meetings,” according to Lora Lee Strandy.

But all in all, it turned out to be a good year with some ambitious projects accomplished. They began the year with a fun packed Football Festival, followed by the second annual Parent-Student day. Again this year, the Student Council provided and decorated the Christmas tree and sponsored the Christmas dance. They also finished up a three-year project of painting the hall graphics.

The student government was run by ASB president Lora Lee Strandy, vice pres. Cynthia Stoicheff, Sec-Treas. Kari Daarstad.

SHS 75th Anniversary

In the year 1982, the 75th graduating class received their diplomas from Sandpoint High School. Classes have grown in size since the first commencement in 1908 when Gladys Ashley was honored at her graduation. Seventy-five years and four high schools later, Sandpoint High has graduated 7,923 proud seniors.

The first high school located on the block of Oak, Second, Cedar and Third was first known as the Central Building. Later the name was changed to Jefferson School. Jefferson School was later moved so that a new school could be built. Central, later known as Farmin because of the land donor's name, was opened in 1906. Then on May 7, 1923, four grades of high school students moved from Farmin to Sandpoint High School; it took them twenty minutes. This school now the Ninth Grade Center was built in 1922. In 1953 the most recent move was made to our present Sandpoint High School, located on Division and Michigan.

Sandpoint's colors, red and white, were first introduced in the 1920's. We became known as the Bulldogs sometime in the 1930's. Sandpoint's first school newspaper, known as the White Pine, came out in 1907. The White Pine produced an annual that year full of pictures and written accounts of the year's events. In 1921 the annual became known as Monticolla, the next year to be spelled Monticola, and in 1922 the paper became the Cedar Post.

Since the time of Gladys Ashley, the curriculum has grown a bit. Four subjects, English, Latin, Algebra and Physical Geography were the only offerings available, compared to the 75 on this year's curriculum.

Sports at SHS started in 1906 with boys' basketball when Sandpoint defeated Hope 32 to 8. Later that year the girls lost to Rathdrum in Rathdrum. In 1909 Sandpoint played Hillyard in football on the Humbird Mill field which was 90 feet short of regulation. The score was Hillyard 36, Sandpoint 0.

Since the first school in Sandpoint was opened, education has continued without a break. With the building of each new school Sandpoint has seen a larger and better equipped educational environment. And with this the seventy-fifth graduating class, we can all look back and see the educational expansion of Sandpoint.

Seventy-five years we've been alive.
 Seventy-five years we've grown.
 Each year a history:
 Books and classes,
 Hallways and lunches,
 Football games and dances,
 SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS.

Seventy-Five years we've been around.
 Seventy-Five years we've known.
 Each year comes.
 A new challenge.

We've only just begun.
 SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS.

Sandpoint High School

As the 75th year of Sandpoint High School comes to a close it brings with it the concept that "life may last forever." However, you and I know that our lives are developed but one step at a time and yet, eventually they will pass. So let us reflect for a moment upon the contributions that SHS has made to our lives and, in turn, contemplate the challenges which lie ahead and how we have been prepared to face them.

Although many of us are graduating, the majority are still looking at a year or two remaining at SHS. In many aspects our high school years have been a challenge to each of us in unique and different ways. From the time we enrolled as shy and scared freshmen to the time when we graduate as 'know it all' seniors, the challenges have been there all along, waiting for us to conquer them. Fortunately or unfortunately as we grow older, the challenges become greater and more intense. If we think of them as stepping stones and take each one step at a time, we can meet these challenges face to face with positive attitudes.

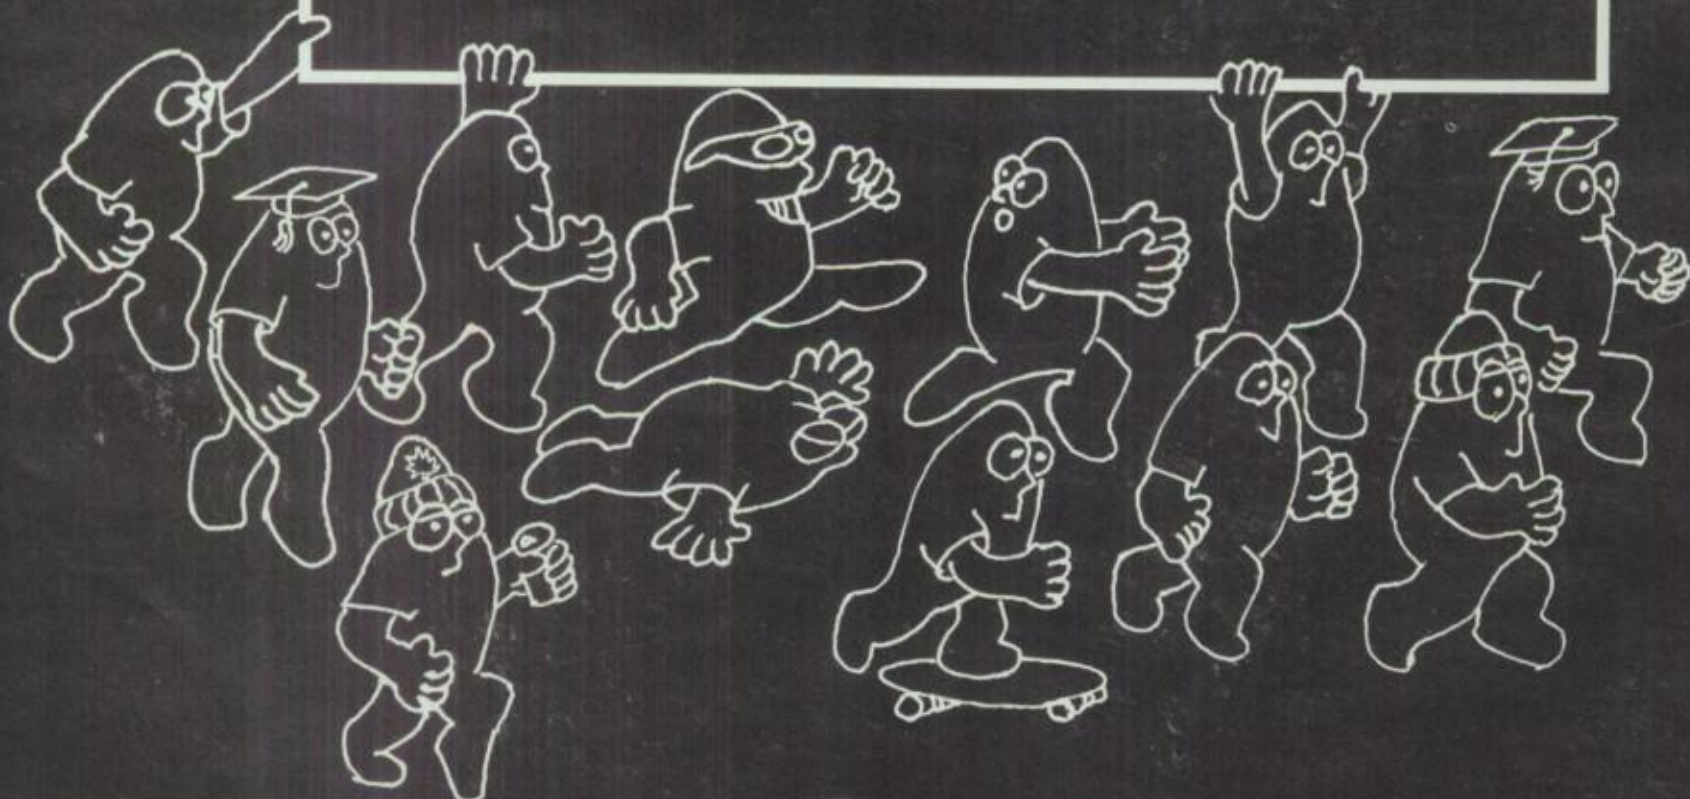

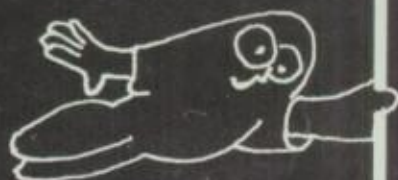

What the future holds for us depends on how we accept these challenges. We cannot rely solely on our past achievements to insure future successes, especially in today's highly mechanized and technical world.

Seventy five years ago our forebears dreamed of the sophisticated technology we use today. But thanks to those people who met the challenges of progress face to face, we are what we are today. School books alone cannot give us the easy solution on how to solve our problems. Many of the answers can be found within ourselves. Our determination and our attitudes will make us conquer or fall to defeat.

So let us remember the water fights, homecoming, humiliating the sophomores and any other special times we have had at SHS, whether they were good or bad. But, let us think of them as another stone upon which we have stepped.

Sincerely,

Jeralyn Lewis

Hey, Merry!

I was the first one here. (A brighta)

We sure had a boring time in M.W.A.

But I'm glad you & Tom was in there, cuz you two are so funny to watch. I hope for the best between you two. (silly wacky)! Hope to see you a lot this summer. And don't worry about losing anyone overnight, wait for me to catch down with ya. (Witch might be a tickle) like another smtho. with my luck. Well dear your as sweet as ever, and our friendship is as strong as ever. So take care.
